According to Grass Lake mock election

Bush wins in a landslide

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

President George Bush will win a second term as President of the United States on Nov. 3 if you believe a mock election held at Grass Lake School in Antioch earlier this week.

The students, ranging in grades from first to eighth, held a mock presidential convention and cast votes for who they felt was the best Presidential candidate.

In a landslide victory, Bush beat out Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton and Texas Millionaire Ross Perot by a two-to-one margin in the little school that cast some 161 votes for the leader of their choice.

Bush lead all candidates with a whopping 140 votes, while Clinton received only 65 and Perot 56.

"The students were very excited to actually get an opportunity to participate in a simulated election," said Grass Lake Social Studies Teacher Carolyn Adams, who organized the election. "These kids were serious about their choice and made it with probably some input from home."

'The real question is do the voters really feel like they can trust Bill Clinton.'

—Robert Churchill

The surprisingly lopsided margin of victory, according to Lake County Republican Chairman Robert Churchill who was at the mock convention and spoke to interested junior high school students after the votes were tallied, is a sign that most of the parents, who will be casting real votes, are still not sure who they will vote for on Nov. 3.

"The real question is do the voters really feel like they can trust Bill Clinton," said Churchill. "Hopefully, the voters will realize that President Bush has done a hero's job despite a recession that was certain to happen after eight straight years of powerful economic upswing."

Churchill added that the polls he has seen indicate a similar story will be written on Nov. 4 by the national media, but with maybe not so large a margin of victory.

"Hopefully, the voters will again support President Bush," said Churchill.

Grass Lake School conducted a similar election during the 1988 election campaign and gave overwhelming support for then Vice-President Bush.

Former East German teacher visits Grass Lake School

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch's Grass Lake School students had a unique visitor to talk to and learn from this week, thanks to an international teacher exchange program.

German teacher Karin Klinke, who lives in a small farming town called Gera, Germany, had some very unique stories and experiences to tell Superintendent Dr. Ruth Bill's school children about living under the Iron Curtain in the former Soviet satellite of East Germany.

Klinke teaches English at a school that instructs students from the fifth to 12th grades.

Voters get info on school bond issues

ROUND LAKE — Residents will be bombarded within the next two weeks with information about two school district 116 referendums on the Tuesday, Nov. 3 ballot. The two questions ask residents to increase their taxes a total of 40 cents per $100 of assessed valuation—a bold move in today's anti-tax climate. But if they approve the two issues, residents will see no increase in the school tax. With the recent refinancing of the Dist. 116 debt, the current tax rate of $4.61 has been cut 40 cents. "Even with failure of the two issues on the November ballot, everyone's taxes will go down 40 cents," said Laura McGuire, vice chairman of Save Our Schools (SOS). Figures are for a $100,000 homes.

County to get 'Zany' with club opening

VERNON HILLS — Professional comedy just minutes from home will be available to area residents starting next week when the Vernon Hills Zanies comedy club is expected to open.

Zanies at the Hawthorn Commons shopping center plans to open its doors Wednesday, Oct. 28, according to Bert Haas, general manager of all four Chicago metropolitan Zanies clubs. The opening date is pending final inspections by the village and fire department.

Airport purchase almost a done deal

ROUND LAKE PARK — The village could have its own airport by early next year. Village officials, beginning with Mayor Cole Akins, say it is a financially sound investment that will bring new prestige and growth to the community. Appraisals for what is now Campbell Airport should be received within the next month. Preliminary estimates are in excess of $11 million. The Federal Aviation Administration will pay 90 percent of the purchase price, the state 5 percent and Round Lake Park the remaining 5 percent. Campbell Airport, located off Allegheny Road, has been in existence more than 30 years. Named after its founder, the late Vern Campbell, it is now operated by Cardinal Aviation.

Contract awarded for sewer pipeline

LAKE ZURICH — The Village of Lake Zurich moved one-step closer to meeting its deadline for the completion of a 12-mile sewer interceptor project with the approval of a second contract for $12,728,189.20 to lay the pipe along with several miles of water mains in the village. The board approved the bid from Joel Kennedy Construction Oct. 19. The water main construction along with the completion of the sewer interceptor pipeline in the end of 1993 will bring the infrastructure of the village on-line to meet the rapid growth the village has seen in the past several years. Kennedy will begin construction on the project in early November pending EPA approval of the contract.

Judge continues annexation hearing

WADSWORTH — Lake County Circuit Court Judge Stephen Walter continued until Nov. 2 a hearing on a handful of objectors' petitions not to be included in a Wadsworth annexation attempt. Five such requests were denied at an earlier hearing. Almost all of those who were denied to be part of the proposed annexation requested more time to secure lawyers. Two of the property owners were represented. The annexation would take the Wadsworth boundary to Route 131 on the east and to the Wisconsin border north.

Island Lake man dies in 3rd fatal fire

ISLAND LAKE — Wendell Barrett, Jr. died due to injuries sustained in a fire at 27525 N. Beech St. early Tuesday morning. Wauconda Fire Department officials said this was the third fatal fire within a square mile in the unincorporated Wauconda area this year. The fires are not believed to be connected. In the most Sept. 20 fatality, Kristine Hooper, 28, died of smoke inhalation at 27509 N. Beech St., right next door to the one-story cottage destroyed in Tuesday's fire.

The Hollywood Connection

Actress Kathleen Turner made a stop at the home of Jim and Carol Ruther in Lake Zurich, Saturday, Oct. 17 to campaign for Democratic candidate for Congress Sheila Smith. Turner also plugged other Democratic contenders including Gov. Bill Clinton and Carol Mosely Braun. Lake County Women Interested in Government announced its new officers and board members recently.

New board members are: Dana Sabonjian Depke, president; Marilyn Sindles, vice president; Marilyn Craig, past president; Faith Sage, secretary; Betty Nieme, treasurer; Paulette Lyons, Dee Jay Davis, Carol A. Mahoney, Patricia Jones, and Kathy Ryg, board members.

WINGS will have its next meeting Saturday, Oct. 24 at 9 a.m., at the Meadows 21 Restaurant in Libertyville, Milwaukee Avenue.

The purpose of the group is to encourage women to seek elective and appointive offices, to educate women about leadership roles and the political process, and to governmental issues and women's political participation.

For more information, call Dana Sabonjian Depke at 623-0785.

Oktoberfest

Oktoberfest, an old German tradition originated in the early 1800s, was alive and well at Hawthorn Lakes Retirement Community in Vernon Hills. Hawthorn Lakes' annual Oktoberfest and open house, Oct. 16, featured the Alpiners, an authentic Bavarian slap dance and folk band. An art exhibition from Hawthorn Lakes Creative Expressions Class was also displayed. — Photo by Daniel Becker

Dad guessed his chest pain was indigestion. He was wrong.

Dad didn't want to worry us.

However, when his chest pains worsened, the paramedics took him straight to Victory Memorial Hospital's Emergency Department. We chose Victory because Dad's physician had told us about their special affiliation with St. Luke's Medical Center in Milwaukee, a recognized leader in cardiac care.

At Victory, the physicians and nurses are experienced in handling cardiac emergencies. Several of the emergency rooms are devoted exclusively to cardiac cases and have special monitoring equipment. The doctors there can administer TPA, a miraculous drug that dissolves blood clots and greatly increases chances of survival.

Dad needed a cardiac catheterization, and the Victory nurses and technicians explained everything to us in terms we could understand. A board-certified physician performed the procedure. Dad was in the hospital a few days for observation and really praised the care he received.

Now he's feeling great, and our family doctor sent him to the Cardiac Rehabilitation program at Victory to help him stay that way.

For comprehensive cardiac treatment, our choice will always be Victory.

Election mania

Grass Lake School students formed their own Presidential Convention last week, which gave each grade level at the school the opportunity to cast their

Proposed amendment lacks school support

Seek answers to funding questions

by RHONDA VINZANT and THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The majority of school board members and officials throughout Lake County agree that more state funding for schools is a necessity and support the passage of the proposed constitutional amendment on the November ballot. However, many feel the amendment may simply be a matter of semantics and not provide the cash-flow voters are seeking or a relief from local property taxes which currently provide the majority of funding for local school districts.

The proposed amendment contains the following provisions: the educational development of all persons to their capacities is a fundamental "right" instead of "goal." It would also change the wording to say it is the paramount duty of the state to provide for a thorough and efficient system of high quality public education and that the State has the preponderant versus primary responsibility for financing education.

"Right now the issue is as clear as mud," said Antioch District 117 Superintendent Robert Schley. "We are one of those schools that is in the middle and it could go either way depending on what happens."

At question is how the amendment would effect funding for schools if passed. It is a question for which no one in Springfield can provide an answer. The amendment deals only with wording changes and does not provide information

"It's a complex issue. We can't clearly articulate what is likely to happen."

—Merv Roberts, SHS board of education on how it would be implemented.

According to Schley, the amendment would change how public school education is funded from kindergarten through 12th grade. Schley said the change would force the state to pay 51 percent of the school's budget, compared to the 33 percent paid by the state now.

"The current article has fairly strong language and you can say that the legislature ought to be providing that now," said Merv Roberts, who represents the Lake County Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards on the State Board of Directors.

The vagueness of the wording has school officials questioning how voters will feel if the passage of the amendment results in an increase in state income taxes to fund education while not effectively lowering local property taxes.

"If they really want to provide more funding the majority would clearly go to the poorer districts," said Roberts. "In a wealthier district such as Stevenson, it's conceivable that we would get some additional money but no where near the added amount of money that would flow from the increased taxes residents in our district would pay. We like to think about local control of school districts. Not being able to dictate how much of their increased taxes would be spent locally may not sit well with taxpayers. It's a complex issue. We can't clearly articulate what is likely to happen."

While the proposed amendment may leave a lot of questions unanswered school officials feel that a defeat of the amendment may send the wrong message to Springfield.

"The problem is that we can't write an essay when we go into the voting booth, we have to vote 'yes' or 'no'. If we vote 'no,' we are saying to legislators that we don't want education to be funded more," said Nancy Prez, chairman of the Lake County division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

Arts & Crafts Fair scheduled Fri, Sat.

The St. Peter Council of Catholic Women will sponsor their Annual Art & Craft Faire on Oct. 23 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Oct. 24 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the St. Peter Social Center. The faire will feature a variety of crafts, candy, plants, bakery goods, delicious dinner and lunch refreshments, raffle, and door prizes.

Flu shots for area seniors available

Flu shots are an effective way to lessen or avoid the symptoms of the flu virus. Senior citizens, people with heart and pulmonary diseases, nursing home residents and the chronically ill are advised to be vaccinated against the flu as they may experience serious results from the disease. Childcare and healthcare workers are also recommended to have flu shots because they come in contact with people susceptible to the flu. The flu vaccine is now available and Rashmikan Patel, M.D., is providing flu shots by appointment at his office next to the State Bank of Antioch in Lindenhurst. For information and appointment call 265-1277.

Pre-trial hearing set to begin for couple

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

An Antioch couple, who allegedly made thousands of dollars in an elaborate baby-selling scheme, began pre-trial hearings in a Lake County courtroom on Oct. 22, just one week after receiving a grand jury indictment.

Terry Pounds, 24, and Angela Andrews, 21, each face one count of theft over $10,000 for their part in a scheme that frustrated the hopes of would be parents in several states.

The couple, who was arrested by Lake County Authorities on Oct. 1 in their Antioch home, were the focus of a multi-agency investigation that led to undercover officers making a $10,000 deal with the couple for their baby.

Lake County Judge Charles F. Scott is scheduled to preside over the trial, which began pretrial hearings at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Centennial Park clean-up set for this weekend

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708) 395-5380

Centennial Park

Just a reminder that Vicky Axton, the Centennial Park Coordinator, has formed a group of volunteers to help clean and maintain the Centennial Park before winter sets in. More volunteers are needed and welcome and should assemble at the park at 9 a.m. on Oct. 24. Weather permitting a rain, second date of Oct. 31 has been set in case there is rain or if the work is not completed during the originally scheduled weekend. Volunteers are asked to bring along a shovel and/or rake. Axton plans to make this maintenance/clean-up a seasonal event.

Awareness Program

Once again the Antioch Drug and Alcohol Task Force, under the fine leadership of Dick Jorgensen, will be sponsoring The Bag Program. With the cooperation of the Jewel and Piggly Wiggly stores in Antioch, brown bags will be dispersed to students at St. Peter Grade School, Emmons Grade School, Antioch Grade School and Grass Lake Grade School. The children will draw pictures on the bags showing various situations related to Alcohol, Drug and Tobacco use. Then the two stores will utilize the bags as they pack up the grocery purchases from the shoppers.

Thus the word will be spread by the children's art work. This special awareness activity will be held in conjunction with Red Ribbon Week from Oct. 24, till Oct. 31.

New Business

A Jackson-Hewitt Tax Service has recently opened in Antioch at 950 Main Street, two doors north of Polson's Health Foods. It will be open throughout the busy tax season of Jan. 4 through April 30. Plans are in the making to have the tax service open year round teaching basic income tax courses, etc. Jackson-Hewitt offers full computerized, electronic filing for tax returns. Also this tax service can get people the "Use" of their tax refunds in 24 hours or less. Jackson-Hewitt's Corporate writes the electronic filing program for the Internal Revenue Service.

Little Miss Irish

As you know I often create "simple," and I stress "simple," crayon drawings for the little ones for the Camp Crayon Program. Some of the drawings actually end up looking pretty artistic (at least in the eyes of a preschooler) such as Charlie Brown and Friends, Sesame Street Characters, Mickey and/or Minnie Mouse, Bart Simpson, Etc. It gets tricky when the children think I am capable of drawing anything—talk about building up one's ego and self esteem! Recently our little Irish sweetie pie, Meaghan Shannahan, wanted me to draw pretty following: 1) Speech and language difficulties, 2) Motor coordination difficulties, 3) developmental de-

Hometown Goodies

"Bell" from her Beauty and the Beast T-Shirt. I told her I would try but I was worried Bell would end up looking more like the Beast rather than the Beauty. When I completed the drawing, Meaghan was happy because she knew I tried. The next week she arrived holding a small Aerial doll from the "Little Mermaid" and wanted me to draw it for her. I tried to explain that it would be much too hard for me to whip out a masterpiece from a three-dimensional figure. Meaghan listened to my cries of protest and quickly solved the problem—"That's okay, Miss Liz, I don't care if you make her look more like the Beast too!" How could I turn her down. Crayon in hand, I began the drawing quietly contemplating "Out of the mouths of babes."

District #34

Antioch Community Consolidated School Dist. #34 will be offering free preschool screening to all Dist. #34 three and four year old children on Oct. 28 and 29. The purpose of this screening is to identify any preschooler in the district who may have any of the lays. The screenings will be conducted at Antioch Grade School and Oakland Grade School. If you are interested in having your three or four year old participate in this preschool screening, you need to call for an appointment by Oct. 25. Members of the Oakland District please call Oakland school and members of the Antioch Grade School District should call that school.

Wedding

Mike Gofron of Antioch

and Tami Miller are planning a Nov. 21 wedding at St. Bedes Church.

Santa's Breakfast

Once again the Grass Lake School PTO will be sponsoring a breakfast with Santa. This year's gala affair will be held on Dec. 6, from 9 a.m. till 1 p.m. As in the past the breakfast includes "all-you-can-eat" pancakes. The little ones can get their pictures taken with Santa and also enjoy story time. Along with the breakfast, a Craft Fair will be going on. There are twenty spaces available and are selling out quickly. If you would like to reserve a space for Dec. 6, please contact Pamela Cardis at 395-6972 or you can leave a message on 395-6962 and Pamela will get back to you. Grass Lake School Spirit Clothes will be on sale throughout the day and once again Santa's Secret Workshop will be open for the children.

Reminders

Get to bed early tonight and rise and shine bright and early in order to drop in at the ACHS Student Assistance Program craft sale being held in the high school gym on Saturday, Oct. 24. Also remember that Halloween is just one short week away. Did you decorate your home, put together a special costume and buy a variety of that much sought after Trick or Treat candies? Remember to drive extra careful on the 31st as all of the little ghosts and goblins will be out and about ringing doorbells to beg for "something good to eat!"

A.C.H.S. September Student of the Month

Doug Bober

Congratulations to Antioch Community High School Sophomore Douglas Bober, being named September's A.C.H.S. Student of the Month.

Bober is ranked 13th in his class of 427 students and is enrolled in honors Geometry and Chemistry classes. Bober is also the President of the Sophomore class.

Bober was nominated by Math Department Chair Joe Fielding

Athlete of the week

Congratulations to Cori Todd for being selected Antioch Community High School Athlete of the Week for the week ending Sept. 12. Todd had 17 serving points, 10 kills, 100 percent in receiving serves, three solo blocks and one assist in a near perfect week. Pictured with Todd are Varsity Volleyball Coach Gwen Varney and First Chicago Representative Jolene Wolf. Lakeland Newspapers misidentified Todd as Katy Harney in the Oct. 16 edition of the Antioch News-Reporter. Lakeland Newspapers regrets the error.

ACHS Red Ribbon Week begins Oct. 24

The Student Assistance Program at Antioch Community High School is sponsoring Red Ribbon Week from Oct. 24 through Nov. 1. The week is designed to promote awareness of illegal drug and alcohol use through prevention education activities and programs.

"We encourage everyone in the area to actively participate during Red Ribbon Week by wearing and displaying red ribbons," said SAP Coordinator Cathy Cratty.

The event is organized by the National Federation of Parents for Drug Free Youth and adheres to the philosophy of no illegal drug use of legal drugs and no use of illegal drugs.

Celebrity donations help fuel auction for student program

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

In an effort to fund a fledgling student program during tough economic times, Antioch Community High School hopes its Celebrity Auction on Nov. 7 at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria will not only provide adequate funding, but will give the community an opportunity to own a piece of their favorite celebrity.

According to Student Assistance Program Coordinator Cathy Cratty, the Nov. 7 auction, which now has over 140 items up for auction, should help replace a significant amount of grant money the program lost this school year.

"It should be fun for everyone," said Cratty. "I hope that we do really well."

It should be a successful night for Cratty and the SAP after the huge response they received from numerous celebrities who donated items such as autographed pictures and other personal items.

According to Cratty, the huge response from numerous celebrities were due in part to the help of one very famous entertainer, Ed McMahon.

"My father knows Ed McMahon and contacted him for help with the auction," said Cratty. "He (McMahon) sent out hundreds of letters to various entertainers and sports celebrities."

McMahon helped grab the likes of Bob Hope, Charlton Heston, Yoko Ono, Barbara Bush, and Bill Clinton. Other donations came from Chicago Bears Jim Harbaugh, Mike Singletary and Walter Payton. "We have really gotten a lot of response for the Mike Singletary autographed Bear's helmet," said Cratty.

Probably the most outrageous donation, according to Cratty, is the shoulder pad award donated by Liz Claiborne.

The auction is open to the public and will continue until all items are auctioned. For more about the auction information, call 395-1421.

These are just some of the nearly 150 celebrity items that will be auctioned off during the Student Assistance Program Celebrity Auction on Nov. 7 beginning at 7 p.m. in the ACHS cafeteria.

First Chicago offers special Halloween treat for kids

Trick or treaters who visit First Chicago Bank Antioch on Halloween Day will be easy to spot for the rest of the day, and they may wind up with even more than the usual sweet treat.

Children aged 14 and under visiting First Chicago's office in Antioch on Oct. 31 will have their pictures taken and their costumes judged, and prizes will be awarded for the three best costumes at each of First Chicago's north suburban offices. The children will also receive reflective orange dots to place on their costumes or clothing, to make it easier for them to be seen as twilight approaches.

First prize in the costume contest will be a new $25 First Generation savings account for the winning child, while those children judged to have the second- and third-best costumes will receive a $15 First Generation savings account and $10 gift certificate to the Antioch Jewel food store, respectively.

"We hope the kids in Antioch have some fun with this contest," said Carl McWherter, First Chicago Bank Antioch president. "They'll compete based on originality and appearance, and the winners will receive prizes that will continue to benefit them for some time to come."

First Chicago Bank Antioch's lobby will be open between 7:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Halloween Day.

Edwards proposes plan commission for District 3

If elected to the Lake County Board, Julia Edwards would establish a land planning committee.

"The committee would consist of developers, open space advocates, everyone," Edwards said.

Edwards, a Democrat, is running against one-term

Republican Suzi Schmidt in the Nov. 3 election. District 3 covers Lake Villa Township.

"I don't like the way things are going in the county," the Round Lake Heights clerk said.

Edwards was on the Lake County Affordable Housing

Task Force. She said those who own a $80,000 home take as much pride in it as a more expensive home. Young people need help in buying their first home. The task force states $36,000 as the base income, but that is not much money, Edwards said.

Teacher

"I have enjoyed very much visiting the United States," said Klink. "My students in Germany are fascinated by anything that comes from the US. I will have to bring some things back with me"

Some of the items Klink will bring back for her students are small packaged food items and tourist trinkets. "One student wants to try a Coca-Cola from the United States," said Klink.

Klink only found out she was coming to America just one month ago when she was selected, along with 24 other German teachers, to spend two weeks in the United States visiting American schools and interacting with American school children. Klink leaves to go home on Oct. 24.

"I was surprised by the number and quality of the questions the students asked me," said Klink. When asked what was the question that stuck out in her mind the most, Klink replied, "It probably was the question where one boy asked me if my family had to climb the wall to see my cousins in West Germany."

Ironically, Klink said she saw her family in West Germany quite often while under Communist rule despite what Americans believed about the Cold War. "They were able to come and visit us, but we were never allowed to leave East Germany until just a few years ago," said Klink.

According to Klink, the economy is slowly changing in Germany and times are tough for people who are out of work. "It's getting better," said Klink. "Some people are out of work, but we are just happy to be free."

The changes in Germany, Klink said, are for the better and she believes the future is bright for her country.

Klink's trip to the United States was sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and she was able to stay in Antioch for part of her stay in Bill's home.

"I think she will be taking my children with her back to Germany," joked Bill.

Athlete of the week

Congratulations to Nicole Stolarik for being selected Antioch Community High School Athlete of the week for the week ending Sept. 19. Stolarik finished ninth in the Warren Cross Country Invitational helping the team finish second overall. The First Chicago Bank of Antioch will make a donation to the high school scholarship fund in the name of Stolarik. Pictured with Stolarik are First Chicago Representative Jeff Mulder and A.C.H.S. # Things are different in Finland

by KATHY HOLMES

As most ACHS students attend football games and wash their cars, I am studying as an exchange student in Finland. Things are so different here. It is as if I'm in the Twilight Zone.

The food is in a class by itself. When entering any kitchen in the country, it is an unspoken rule to eat at least half of the contents of the refrigerator. The people cally get down on all fours and kiss the ground they walk on.

Of course you have to say yes for two reasons: 1. You will break their heart at refusal. 2. That American style Finnish you have been learning is good and fine to other English-speaking people, but to Finnish civilians, it means absolutely nothing.

Now I have to admit that I have quite a strong sweet tooth, but I have to put my foot down when grandma makes me a cake the size of the Statue of Liberty.

I believe that it depends on the family but most people do eat five or six times daily. These can be from sausages to breads to different varieties of cheeses but they are, indeed, meals of great preparation.

Coffee is quiet prevalent here also. The English have tea. The Germans have beer. The French have champagne and the Finnish have coffee. Before I arrived, I had had maybe 1/9 cup of coffee in my life. I am now drinking at least six cups day. Is it possible to say "No, thank you" when coffee is offered? I don't think so. I think the caffeine-free Finns are tormented and looked down upon by their friends and families. They may also be ridiculed and called "Swedes." Like Illinois rivals Wisconsin, Finland rivals Sweden.

practically throw you on the floor, pry open your mouth, and jam the food down your throat with some sort of blunt object. Now if you refuse, you may never be invited to anyone's home ever again. Word travels fast. People that are under the age of approximately 40.776 will not be so offended by peoples' not-eating habits. They are aware of the new health age of the nineties. The older people are the batty ones. They do not speak your language but think that if they give you the international sign of hands to mouth (eating...of course), you will automati-

Antioch drops to 0-7, winless Mundelein up next for Sequoits

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

It really has been a long season for Antioch Varsity Football Head Coach Del Pechauer.

His Sequoit team dropped its seventh straight game this year 40-14 in a North Suburban Conference loss at Fenton last Friday, despite taking an early lead on Fenton in the first quarter.

Sequoit quarterback Casey O'Connell tossed an 18-yard touchdown pass to Tom Furlan for Antioch's first score. Later before the half, O'Connell rushed for a one-yard touchdown to bring the score to 20-14 Fenton. Fenton scored 20 unanswered points in the second half.

"Right now, our team doesn't have a lot of confidence," said Pechauer about the second half point explosion by Fenton. "They're kind of waiting for things to fall apart."

Sequoit volleyball continues winning with regional near

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Sequoit Varsity Volleyball team continued to play well as they beat both St. Viator and rival Warren to raise their overall record to 18-6 on the season.

"We finished 4-4 in the conference and are gearing up for the Lake County Fall Classic in Libertyville this weekend," said Head Coach Gwyn Varney. "We're playing better and with a little more intensity which is good."

The Sequoits beat St. Viator 15-13,

15-9 on Oct. 14 and were lead by Katy Harney (11 of 11 and 8 points) and Cori Todd (13 of 14 and 4 kills).

Antioch then beat a rival Warren team 15-6, 15-13 and was lead by Krissy Andrews (12 of 12 and 11 points) and Harney (12 of 15 and 10 kills).

The Sequoits are paired against Highland Park in the Fall Classic Tournament at Libertyville High School Butler Campus at 4:30 p.m. on Oct. 23. Regional pairings have Antioch facing Roundlake at 8 p.m. on Oct. 27 at Grayslake High School.

Millburn ready to launch into computer age in Jan.

Millburn Elementary students will join the computer age in January.

"Apple has a new line of products out and we were going to order them this week, but now it will be next week," Millburn Principal Gary Cybul said.

The 21 Macintosh LCII units will be placed in a room off the learning resource center.

The school's Parents Teachers

Organization has pledged the receipts of the next two year's Market Day. Some $9,000 was raised toward the $45-50,000 purchase last year in an all-school fundraiser. Cybul said this year's efforts will be more on a smaller scale and area businesses will be asked to donate funds.

One Millburn student may have an upper hand on the rest. "I have a Mac at home and my second-grader can work it," Cybul said.

O'Malley graduates

Kevin O'Malley of Antioch graduated from Drake Univ. after the 1992 summer session.

O'Malley received a master of science degree in business administration from the College of Business and Public Administration.

Superhero

Illinois Representative John Porter (R) receives the "Taxpayer Superhero" award from the Citizens Against Government Waste from the group's president Thomas Schantz (right).

Women's club to hold luncheon

Antioch Christian Women's Club will hold it's luncheon on Nov. 19, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. at Hogan's Restaurant in Antioch.

Feast your eyes on the festive foods of Judy Ross of Judy's International Cuisine Catering, in Grayslake. She will be sharing some tasteful tidbits for the holidays. Betty Moore from New Berlin, Wisconsin will be the guest speaker and will entertain with a song.

Free nursery is provided for children 10 and under. To make reservations, call Linda at 680-3553 or Renee at 395-1281 by November 12. Reservations must be honored, canceled, or used by a friend!

Republicans

Seeking the Majority

Statewide Offices

William E. Peterson, State Senate Dist. 26, a Long Grove resident, has been a resident of this district for 22 years. He received his bachelor's degree from North Park College and a master's degree from Northern Illinois University. He has served as a school board member at Elmwood Park Unit Dist. 401 for two terms, Vernon Township Trustee for one term, Vernon Township Supervisor for four terms, been an Illinois State Representative since 1983 and was a 1988 Bush delegate to the national convention.

Peterson strives to control state spending, foster an improved business climate, create a new public school aid formula that is realistic and equitable and improve the efficiency of human services agencies.

David N. Barkhausen, State Senate Dist. 30, is a Lake Bluff resident and lived formerly in Lake Forest and Waukegan. He received a Juris Doctor degree from Southern Illinois University School of Law in 1976 and was the first president of the Student Bar Association. He earned his bachelor's degree from Princeton University and graduated magna cum laude in 1972. Barkhausen representing southern and central Lake County has served in the Illinois General Assembly since 1981. "In the past, I have tried to focus on some issues where I could make a difference as a member of the minority party," he said. "The prospect of a Republican majority in the Senate after the election gives me even greater enthusiasm for continued service."

Verna Clayton, State Representative Dist. 51, is a Buffalo Grove resident and was village president from 1979 to 1991. She guided Buffalo Grove in its transition from a small village to a major residential/commercial community by expanding commercial property by 1 million square feet and office, research and industrial property by nearly 4 million feet. She also completed major projects on Illinois Route 83, Lake Cook Road, Arlington Heights Road and Buffalo Grove Road.

During the 1980s, Clayton served as the Illinois Municipal League president and vice president, Northwest Municipal Conference president and vice president, Chairman of the Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency, and College of Lake County Advisory Council.

Charles A. Cardella, State Representative Dist. 60, received his bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana in 1975 and is the president of Mechanical Component Sales, Inc. He has been the Lake County Precinct Committeeman for Vernon Twp. Precinct 402, and a registered Republican in Lake County for the last 14 years.

He has lobbied in Springfield and called on legislators regarding anti-tax legislation and pro-family issues, and has worked on several state-wide campaigns for Jim Edgar and Jim Ryan.

Andrea S. Moore, State Representative Dist. 61, a resident of Libertyville, is the president of the Lake County Forest Preserve, and Lake County Board Member Dist. 5 since 1984. She was Libertyville Village Clerk from 1975-76, and village trustee from 1976-84. State appointments include the Illinois Supreme Court Advisory Committee and the Governor's Task Force for Flood Control.

She is a founding member of the David Adler Cultural Center Board of Directors and a member of the Condell Medical Center Board of Directors.

Robert W. Churchill, State Representative Dist. 62, a Lake Villa resident, received his bachelor's degree from Northwestern University and his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Iowa. He has been the 62nd district representative since 1983. Elective positions include 1980 Delegate to National Nominating Convention, Alternate Delegate to 1984 Republican Nominating Convention, Lake Villa Twp. Trustee from 1981 to 1983.

Churchill is also the chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee since 1990, a precinct committeeman, a past member of the board of governors of the Lake County Republican Federation.

Rich Williamson, U.S. Senator, an Illinois native, was raised in Winnetka. He attended law school at the University of Virginia, where he was executive editor of the International Law Journal. An aide to Ronald Reagan, he was on the President's senior White House staff in charge of intergovernmental affairs from 1981 to 1983. He later served as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations in Vienna.

In 1988, Williamson was a senior advisor to President George Bush's presidential campaign. Williamson is a partner in the law firm of Mayer, Brown and Platt.

Philip M. Crane, Representative in Congress Dist. 8, is serving his 11th term in the U.S. House of Representatives. He was first elected to the House of Representatives in a special election in 1969. The Illinoisan is the third ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee with jurisdiction over energy, taxes, trade, Medicare, welfare reform, and Social Security.

John E. Porter, Representative in Congress Dist. 10 is serving his seventh term in the United States House of Representatives. Porter is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and serves on three subcommittees. Additionally, Porter is a member of the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe, an official congressional organization established to monitor compliance with the 1975 Helsinki Accords.

Porter and his wife reside in Wilmette.

Countywide Office

Sally Deadrick Coffelt, Clerk of Circuit Court has been the clerk of the 19th Judicial Circuit of Lake County since 1980. Coffelt lives in Gurnee and is a charter member of the Northeast Illinois Circuit Clerk's Association, and a member of the Illinois Association of Circuit Clerks.

She received her bachelor's from Milikin University in Decatur. Coffelt also aided with the automation of traffic record-keeping system, reorganization of the office file storage system, automation of the exhibit inventory system and the small claims division.

Barbara Richardson, Coroner of Lake County has 15 years experience, six as a deputy coroner and nine years as coroner, and was the first woman to be appointed by the county board to serve as coroner. She was elected twice to the position by voters. She is a member of the American Cancer Society, Salvation Army Advisory Board, Intervention Program for Domestic Abuse and Violence Advisory Board and the YWCA of Lake County. She is also the winner of the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council Woman of Achievement Award, YWCA Lake County Outstanding Achievement Award, Joyce Fitzgerald Memorial Award and the Grant Twp. Republican Heart Beat Award.

Michael Waller, County State's Attorney, received his Juris Doctorate from the University of Illinois in 1973 and was in the top 10 percent of his class. He has been the Lake County State's Attorney since 1990. He is a member of the Lake County Bar Association and co-chairman of the Criminal Law Committee, Illinois State Bar Association, National District Attorneys' Association and the Hundred Club of Lake County.

County Board

Bob Neal, Dist. 2, has been a county board member since 1982. He was previously elected Newport Twp. Supervisor 1985-89, and Wadsworth Trustee 1971-83. He is currently a member of the public service committee, vice chairman of the finance committee and chairman of the intergovernmental relations committee.

The president of Able Electronics and director of the Illinois Toll Highway Authority is a longtime member of the Zion-Benton Moose Club, Wadsworth Lions Club and Waukegan Masonic Lodge.

Suzi Schmidt, Dist. 3, a Lake Villa Twp. resident for 15 years, was elected to the Lake County Board in 1988. She was elected Lake Villa Twp. Trustee in 1985 and was the director of the Lindenhurst Recreation Department from 1981-1987.

While serving on the county board and forest preserve, she was a member of the finance committee, legislative committee, land acquisition committee, Illinois Parks and Recreation Association, museum and education committee.

Robert L. Grever, Dist. 19, a lifelong resident of Lake County, lives in Lake Zurich. He was elected to the Lake County Board Dist. 6 and commissioner of the Lake County Forest Preserve in 1990. He was a member of the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission 1990-92, Republican Committeeman for Precinct 395, past Elia Township Republican Committeeman chairman, and past charter member of the Lake Zurich Jaycees.

Arlene Genell, Dist. 20, a Quincy College graduate, is the American Cancer Society Illinois Division chairman of the public affairs committee and is also an appointed member of the Buffalo Grove Plan Commission. Finishing up her term as a member of the Lake County Regional Plan Commission, Genell maintains and revises the Comprehensive Land Use Plan (Framework Plan) for Lake County.

Trust George Bush

Choice of President boils down to simple matter of trust.

Much as Ronald Reagan seized economic issues to wrest the U.S. presidency from the debacle of the Carter years, Gov. Bill Clinton has turned the spotlight on America's sagging economy to make his case for turning the White House over to the Democrats for the next four years.

As a skilled politician, Clinton knows that Americans generally vote their pocketbook. FDR's New Deal was a promise of better times. John F. Kennedy's chant in 1960 to "Get America Going Again" has an eerie similarity in 1992 to the Clinton-Gore theme of change. Reagan understood the impact of the economy in his ringing question in 1980, "Are you better off today than you were four years ago?"

Knowing well the short memory of American voters and their propensity to vote bread and butter issues, Clinton has exploited unsteady times and dredged up typical Democratic big government plans to overshadow the achievements of President George Bush in foreign affairs and the inability of Republicans to stem the head-long rush in Congress for deeper deficits and socialistic schemes. Curiously, many voters have been attracted to Clinton's taxation plans calling for an estimated $150 to $200 billion in four years. Does anyone realistically think this staggering sum can be raised by only soaking the rich?

Almost lost in the long campaign debate has been that Americans also choose the leader of the free world when they elect a President. This sobering thought may yet be the foremost advantage of President Bush for reelection with only days remaining before election. Clinton may be able to enunciate the hurt of jobless Americans and the frustration of citizens as encapsulated by Ross Perot over the scandal-ridden Congress, but both Clinton and Perot are rank rookies when it comes to dealing with foreign leaders and maintaining America's mantle of leadership in a world beset with economic uncertainties. George Bush has worldwide respect. In this context, Vice President Quayle, without a doubt, has done the best job of spelling out what is at stake: Do you trust Bill Clinton?

In a word, our answer is a resounding "No." For that overriding reason, our endorsement goes to President Bush for a second term.

Williamson preferred

Rich Williamson offers opportunity to restore party balance in Senate.

As a political swing state, Illinois was served well when the two political parties "shared" our two U.S. Senate seats. This theory of balance reached a zenith when two giants of the U.S. senate, Paul Douglas, a trail-blazing liberal Democrat, and Republican minority leader Everett M. Dirksen served at the same time more than two decades ago.

Out of this tradition of balance, fairness and recognition of the importance of maintaining a two-party system, we prefer Republican Rich Williamson, over Carol Moseley Braun, who scored a shocking, history-making victory in the Democratic primary, for election in the Nov. 3 general election.

Immediately catching the fancy of the national media because of her possibility of becoming the first black female ever to be elected to the U.S. Senate, Braun vaulted to a lead that she continues to hold as the campaign winds down to a conclusion. Braun's potential as a symbol continues to outshine her pedestrian record in public office and her highly questionable handling of family finances three years ago. Williamson might be guilty in the heat of the campaign of unfairly calling his opponent a "tax cheat," but the fact remains that as a lawyer and a former state legislator, she should have known better. The questions about her ethics are legitimate.

Despite almost unbelievable obstacles, including sometimes half-hearted support from his own party, Williamson doggedly remained faithful to the task of challenging his attractive opponent and enunciating differences between their basically party-line approaches to government. We believe Williamson has done a good job of providing voters with a choice between a certified, Hyde Park liberal and a respectable, right wing attorney with Washington experience who understands how market-based solutions are the only way out of the current economic mess and creating new jobs.

Illinois already has a liberal Democrat in the U.S. Senate. Now is the time to restore balance and fairness. Williamson is much preferred and should be elected.

Answers to gridlock

Democrats could make County Board gains with controlled-growth stance.

Democratic candidates for the Lake County Board in the Nov. 3 general election are offering some interesting alternatives to current growth and development patterns that inflict a high cost on the environment and open space.

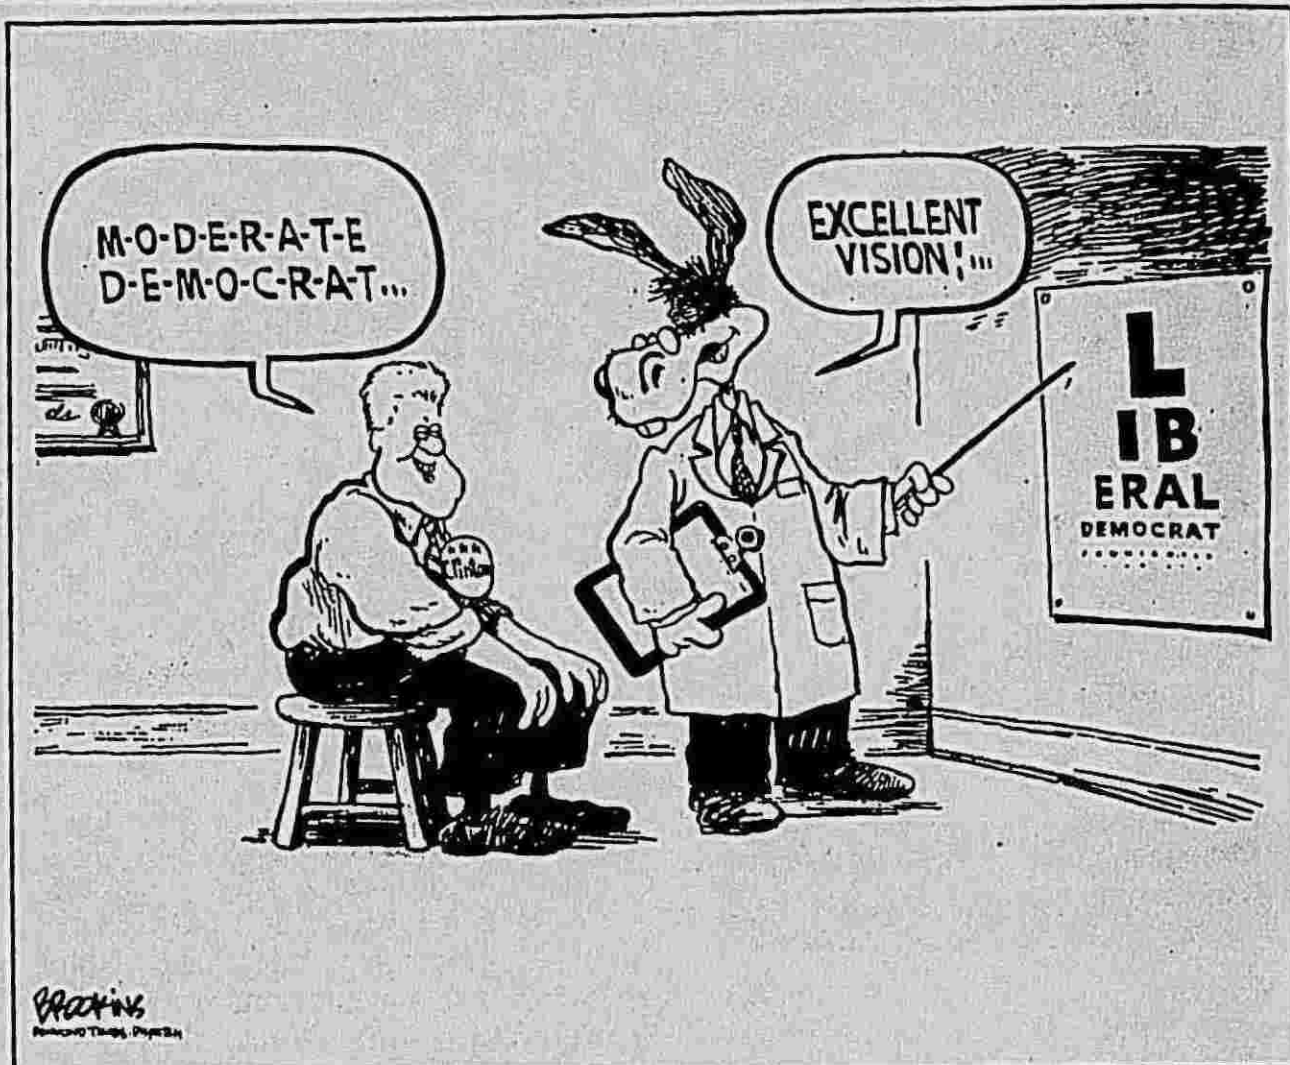

With a framework provided by John P. Reindl, who once served on the County Board as a Republican and now is seeking to return as a Democrat, positions on a fairly wide range of issues have been spelled out as a platform on which Democrats are making their most concerted campaign ever.

The slate of Democrats is not anti-growth. The Democratic aspirants have pledged to promote new business while balancing protection of the environment "to insure all taxpayers a fair return for their tax dollars." Their views on such things as cooperative regional planning, responsive representation, solid waste handling and senior citizen advocacy are mainstream.

Where the Democrats want to head off in a new direction is curtailment of what they call Lake County's "haphazard pattern of development." This focuses at the heart of criticism leveled at Republican leadership for accepting campaign funds from builders, developers and real estate interests. Instead of gobbling up the open countryside, Democrats would develop what they term "abandoned, unused lakefront industrial areas" meaning, presumably, Waukegan and North Chicago. Growth could be spurred in these areas without diminishing remaining open space. They see the answer to gridlock and traffic congestion in widening existing highways that will not gobble up thousands of acres like new highways such as the proposed extension of Rte. 53.

Without doubt, the platform will hit home with independent Republicans and advocates for controlled growth. Add in party-line Democrats and environmental stalwarts and the challengers become a formidable force. County Board politics could be in for some drastic changes.

Viewpoint

Single districts win approval of candidates

by BILL SCHROEDER

The campaign for County Board in Lake County's new system of 23 single member districts is giving grassroots politics a shot in the arm and definitely is serving to get voters better acquainted with county government.

"It's real local politicking," exclaimed Bob Neal, battle-scarred Republican veteran and former county GOP chief. "I like it." Neal is pitted against another veteran in the northeast district, Democrat Sam Payne.

While the solo campaign is working out fine for him, Neal said he advocated two-member districts when the powers to be were debating redistricting. That way, Neal reasoned, voters would be able to select a candidate every two years.

Straws were drawn by district for "short" and "long terms" to implement the new single member concept. A short term was drawn for Neal's district. He chuckled as he noted that powerful County Board Chairman Robert "Bob" Depke is inheriting a long term. Depke also is running unopposed Nov. 3. The guy's on a roll. Wonder if he's buying lots of Lotto tickets these days?

Suzi Schmidt, running for reelection in a mid-county territory, isn't knocking the new system. But she said she misses the camaraderie of running with teammates under the old system of six four-member districts. "It was more fun running with someone else."

Schmidt's former running mate, Larry Leafblad, running in another mid-county district, also gave the thumbs up to solo campaigning. "You get to talk to people one-on-one," stated Leafblad as he paused in his almost daily door knocking. Only Leafblad's opponent, Robert Boness, is doing a lot of door knocking, too.

Democrat John P. Reindl, a former Republican running to represent a mostly Fremont Township district, feels the single member concept gives him a good shot at unseating Colin L. McRae of Mundelein. Reindl pointed out that McRae needed votes from outside his home area to win two years ago. "This time it's going to be different," vowed Reindl.

Yes, it's a new ballgame for County Board campaigning. The question is, will it be politics as usual or a big change when the new board organizes in December?

FOR TRAIN BUFFS---Former employees and friends of the North Shore Line will be getting together Saturday, Oct. 31, for their 24th annual reunion at the Ramada Inn, 200 N. Green Bay Rd., Waukegan. The mystique and interest in the former electric inter-urban serving Lake County and shore line towns between Chicago and Milwaukee continues to grow.

This year's shindig promises to be spiced with new stories and memorabilia on display of the late and lamented railroad. Art Kilponen of Waukegan is collecting dinner reservations at $17.50 per person. He can be contacted at 336-2286. The annual dinners started several years after the line shutdown.

*****

POLITICAL BLUE BLOOD---Ed Sullivan of Mundelein, a recent University of Illinois graduate, is getting a taste of politics as a campaign aide. Only Ed's working in a Republican office instead of a Democrat as would seem appropriate for his heritage.

Sullivan is the great-grandson of beloved State Sen. Tom Bolger, who represented Lake and McHenry county from 1930-1952. Bolger established standards for fairness and honesty that remain to this day.

One of our favorite stories about the popular Democrat was the time in the early 1930's electricity came to the family farm west of Wauconda. Appreciative voters collected donations of $1 each to buy a refrigerator for Bolger and his family, a rare and much coveted home appliance in those days. Tom kept the refrigerator and went on to serve many years with distinction. Today accepting such a gift would be scandalous. You don't think times have changed?

*****

ALL FOR BUSH---Daughter Jill DePasquale and her husband, Ralph, returned from several weeks in Europe with the report that interest is high over the U.S. presidential election. Europeans are pulling for another term for Bush because they feel he represents the kind of leadership needed in today's world economy.

What readers are saying...

Promoting hate, fear

Editor:

Bill Schroeder's Viewpoint regarding the national election appeared to have come straight from the Pat Buchanan/Pat Robertson school of hate and fear mongering.

Instead of a discussion of the issues, he is trying to scare us with suggestions of Candace Bergen in the cabinet and a gay chairman of the Joint Chiefs. I, for one, am incensed at his lack of respect for the intelligence and fair-mindedness of the people of Lake County.

A balanced discussion of the issues and the candidates could be enlightening. Unfortunately, you have chosen to print a bigoted, venomous piece of piffle.

McRae a chauvinist

Editor:

I have to respond to one aspect of Colin McRae's diatribe against Carol Calabrese in Lakeland's Oct. 2 issue. Whether McRae's role in Dr. Potts's forced resignation was "corrupt" or not is best left to the voters of District 10 to constitute "slightly masked slander" or not is too complicated to be answered here.

But, as a woman, I take exception to McRae's sexist comment that off the floor Carol Calabrese "may be a lady, but on the floor she has conducted herself in a manner far from that of a lady!"

Can you imagine McRae making such a statement about a male colleague with whom he had a disagreement? "Off the floor Joe Smith may be a gentleman, but on the floor he has conducted himself..." Language like that went out with the handlebar mustache and the smoke-filled back room.

Remember that old saying? "A man who stands his ground is called tough and principled; a woman who does the same is called a bitch."

Sounds to me like McRae is one of those good ol' boys who feel uncomfortable around strong women. Unfortunately for him, there are lots of strong women on the County Board and in the voting booth. Not a good position for a male politician to be in these days, certainly not in the "year of the woman."

Pained by high salaries

Editor:

I applaud Vern A. Holmes for his letter on the Antioch Community High School referendum which would greatly increase real estate tax.

I am puzzled how eight public employees justify receiving a combined salary of $596,355?

How wonderful the good life would be for the skilled workers in the private sector to earn an equal salary for only 185 work days.

The time is now to curb spending by public school boards and administrators. Let them take responsibility for high wages and be accountable to the taxpayer. Ease our pain.

Changing for Carter era

Editor:

Americans suffer today from a stagnant economy. However, not everyone is disappointed with our poor economic performances. Democrats appear to take great joy in the problem they created.

During the eight years of Ronald Reagan, America experienced unparalleled peace-time prosperity. Reagan convinced Congress to cut taxes and to deregulate business. The result was the creation of 19.892 million jobs, 82 percent of which were, according to the Bureau of Labor and Statistics, higher paying, high skilled occupations. Republicans appeared undefeatable. Then came along a well-known budget deal involving a tax increase the Democrats proposed, and to which George Bush agreed.

It was the greatest mistake of George Bush's presidency. The tax increase, which never reduced the deficit as intended, caused the U.S. economy to become sluggish.

As a result, some Americans are looking for change. Like the German people in pre-Hitler Germany, they do not care about what shape that change will take. History teaches us to beware of people who claim to be a savior on a white horse.

Bill Clinton suggests that he can take us back to the prosperous Reagan Era through Jimmy Carter policies. Those that remember Carter, remember the double digit inflation, the 21 percent interest rates and the 10-plus unemployment rate.

I am reminded of an old Russian proverb: "Be careful for what you wish, you just might get it." I worry about what type of change Bill Clinton is offering America. George Bush offers hope for an economic recovery. Bill Clinton will give us change all right—change from an economy growing slowly, to an economy in full-blown recession.

'Gay rights' questioned

Editor:

Well, two "politically correct columnists" have come up with a new name for Americans who believe in morality—BIGOTS. The basic issue they are addressing is homosexuality and whether or not Americans can accept this behavior as a legitimate "alternate lifestyle."

I'd like to present some facts: the federal Center for Disease Control estimates there are now more than one million cases of HIV infections nationwide; according to the American Psychological Association, in 1984, the average homosexual had 50 partners a year—almost one a week, 500 to 1,000 in a lifetime; "gays" account for 80 percent of all sexually transmitted diseases; in two polls published in Time, May 1992, when asked "Are homosexual relationships between consenting adults morally wrong?" The 1978 poll claimed that 53 percent of respondents said yes (38 percent, no) and a second poll done 14 years later (after trying desperately to convince us otherwise), 54 percent still answered yes.

I have a right and responsibility to respond to a presidential candidate who has made campaign pledges and promises to recognize homosexual marriages, enforce quota hiring by sexual preference, repeal the ban on avowed homosexuals in the military, mandate educational indoctrination for the homosexual lifestyle, and will enact a federal "gay-rights" law.

Clinton is courting the homosexual vote openly and aggressively, is called "the most pro-lesbian/pro-gay ticket in history," and is also endorsed by the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force.

Well, Gov, I am rejecting your platform and your promises (as the majority of Americans do) and will hold fast with great zeal and devotion (Bigotry) to morality, heterosexual marriages, traditional families including single parents, abstinence till marriage, and equal protection for all as guaranteed already in our Constitution. This is not bigotry! I will unashamedly cast my vote for a man who represents the majority of bigots (their word, not mine) in this country because I am not willing to pay any price for change. Re-elect President Bush.

Arkansas snow job

Editor:

What will become of America if we allow Governor Clinton and the Democratic Congress to do for the nation what Clinton has done for Arkansas?

I remember the last Democrat President: super-high inflation, 15.34 percent mortgages, you couldn't sell or buy a house, couldn't afford to buy anything that required a loan because the rates were sky high and people were being laid off.

I did some research on how Arkansas has benefited by 10 plus years of Clinton leadership. Compared to the other states, Arkansas ranks 50th, last, lowest, el stinko in average income, law enforcement, jobs for young people, and workplace safety. Under his "leadership," his state is up to 17th in overall tax-burden according to Money Magazine, and he has managed to double state spending and debt.

Besides all this, Arkansas ranks fifth highest in adult illiteracy, teenage pregnancy, low birth-weight babies, and overall well-being of children. Arkansas teachers are the third lowest paid.

So now he tells us Arkansas has among the fastest growing rates of new jobs in the country. Well, when you start with next to nothing, twice that is a 100 percent increase.

Slick Willie looks good and talks fast, but his record betrays the kind of "change" America doesn't need.

For Rte. 22 widening

Editor:

Pamela Newton's long experience and deep interest in her community as a trustee of Vernon Hills and as a member of the Lake County Committees on Solid Waste and Affordable Housing have already benefited us, the residents of Dist. 18.

Newton continuously seeks easing transportation congestion, preserving wetlands and other environmentally beneficial lands, and improving air quality by actively working to bring a rail commuter line to Dist. 18 (how could her opponent not know about this when reams of information have been published about the line), widen Rte 22 (eliminating congestion eliminates air pollution), and reroute the planned extension of Rte. 53. Concerned about our environment long before others, Newton created the now widely accepted Conservation Open Space land use zoning classification.

Skeptical of growth

Editor:

Walking the precincts of County Board District 18 has been an interesting experience for me, and I'd like to tell you about one of the people I've met.

She moved from Cook County to Vernon Hills with her husband and three kids. Although they work three jobs between them, they still had to take out a home-equity loan to pay their property taxes this year. She says she doesn't know what they'll do next year and beyond as taxes go on up but their income does not. They're thinking they may have to sell their home, if they can, and move back to Cook County.

People must begin to question the tale they have been told: that increased development holds down property taxes by widening the tax base. That notion has been proven false in Du Page County, and it is just as false here. If increased development did keep taxes down, we would be watching our bills level off, or even fall. Instead they are rising, due to the constant demand for additional infrastructure and services.

And now we're all facing a 4 cent per gallon gas tax to fend off gridlock on our roads.

I say it's time to look at rapid over-development with a skeptical eye, for the sake of our children and our quality of life. Tax increases will slow only when development slows.

Why was 'Geo' left out?

Editor:

I was shocked to hear that the National Organization of Women (NOW) did not endorse Senator Adeline J. Geo-Karis for the 31st District of the Illinois Legislature. They, obviously, discounted all of her fine work on women's issues.

She supported the Equal Rights Amendment, and she was the only woman on the Rape Study Committee, which held hearings all over the state and changed the law so that rape victims now have more protection under the law. She also sponsored the Stalker Law; the Guilty but Mentally Ill Law; laws against child molester; and, laws against abusers of the elderly and disabled. Geo-Karis also sponsored the repeal of the Illinois Inheritance Tax, which repeal greatly benefits widows and widowers of all ages.

She personally does not favor abortion except to save the health and life of the mother, and, in rape and incest cases. However, she feels this is a very personal and sensitive issue and questions governmental involvement in it at all.

FOREST DEAL CUT?

Has a deal been cut for the next president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.?

Two persons are said to be interested in succeeding Andrea Moore at the December reorganization. One is Robert Buhai of Highland Park. He's a Democratic dark horse.

Front runner is said to be Colin McRae of Mundelein. All he has to do is win re-election over Democratic rival John Reindl. Reindl is working hard in hopes of spoiling the party.

As for the deal, members of the anti open-space crowd like County Board Chairman Robert Depke think McRae is best. He and Depke oppose more bond issues and few, if any, land purchases.

Besides, the pay won't be bad after election. Now a $2,500 job, it goes to $10,000. Add that to the new $24,000 salary for serving on the County Board. Not bad for a part-time job.

DON'T SHED TEARS

Is the Lake County Stormwater Management Agency going out of business? Or is it in a holding pattern?

Neither, says Director Ward Miller.

An agency with big plans, it once had four engineers. Today there are two.

Gone is, Karen Kabbes, a rising star, who just landed the job as executive director of the Chain O' Lakes Waterway Agency in Fox Lake. She followed the departed William Brown, who is studying for his doctorate at the University of Minnesota. Some say he was too good for Lake County.

Miller said a recruitment campaign is under way to bring the agency to full strength. It needs these bodies to begin enforcing the new county watershed ordinance that became law in mid-October. Almost 41 of Lake County's communities have signed on as certified members.

Mayor Dick Welton of Gurnee is chairman of the agency's board. He wants to see it succeed, too. If not, he'd have to find another public-service job that needs doing.

DO POLLS LIE?

Polls are a dime a dozen. Those most often mentioned put Bill Clinton way ahead of George Bush for president and Carol Moseley Braun in front of Rich Williamson for U. S. Senate.

Then there is the Shelia Smith poll. It shows her tied with Phil Crane in the race for 8th Dist. congressman. In the 60th Dist. a push poll (leads voters to opinion) is supposed to be making Republican Charles Cardella appear like a villain in his race with Democrat Lauren Beth Gash.

Island Lake Trustee Fred Bigham said polls are expensive and invalid. "Each one costs thousands of dollars based on as few as 400 phone calls," he said. That's too small of a sample, he said.

"How many polls show a candidate should get out of the race or losing so big he should stay home on election day?"

Now, for the latest Comp U Serv poll. This is conducted weekly by the international data base service subscribed to by people ranging from the world of science to writing. Last week Bush got 43 percent, Clinton 35 percent and Ross Perot 12 percent.

This week 4,807 computer voters give Bush 34 percent and show Clinton tied with Perot at 29 percent.

Is it believable?

BEAUTY CONTEST

Whatever else is happening in the Dist. 18 County Board race, it is a beauty contest—honestly.

First, there is the green-eyed Irish beauty named Pam Newton. The Vernon Hills trustee is as vibrant as she is savvy.

Her opponent is flaxen-haired Liz Fayer of Buffalo Grove. A biology instructor at the College of Lake County, she has been known to turn a few heads.

Making the race even more attractive is south Lake County environmental activist Ginny Nelson-Wulf. The attractive Lincolnshire biologist has signed on as Fayer's campaign chairman.

Does this race prove that brains can go with beauty?

OVERHEARD/SEEN

**** BUFFALO GROVE—

Arlene Genell, 20th Dist. candidate for the County Board, said her position on the Rte. 53 super highway through central Lake County, is misunderstood. She favors it, BUT not along its presently proposed route to infringe on wetlands, residential areas and zoning. Genell also denies accepting any contribution from the Libertyville-based Taxpayers for Good Govt., as claimed in a press release from the Lake County Democratic Party blasting that PAC. Genell says she is running a "no strings attached" campaign. Apologies are extended. **** ZION—

Dr. John Gordon has been endorsed by the National Organization of Women over incumbent Adeline Geo-Karis in the race for 31st Dist. state senator. "If Geo-Karis can be named Mother of the Year I can be Woman of the Year," he said. Someone said Gordon is talking about a new source of state revenue—a tax on mortgages.

Ross For Boss II

I'm calling in response to "Ross for Boss" and I completely agree with whoever said that. I think that Ross Perot would be a very good change for this country because whatever we've been doing in the past obviously isn't working. At least he is not spending our money on senseless things.

Who's This Guy?

I live in Round Lake and want to know why we can't have a county board representative. Who is this Larry Leafblad? I would like to see Robert Boness win the election.

Media Liars

I'm calling because I'm sick of the media. I don't think we can trust them and their coverage of the election. They're so totally for Clinton, it's not even funny. I think they manipulate the polls and they only interview the people that say what the reporters want them to say.

Waste Of Money

Seems like an awful big waste of money spent on the Wadsworth wetlands project, when now they want to run Yorkhouse Road straight through to the tollway and highway.

Enough Is Enough

This in response to "Dist. 128 Expansion." I've got three words for you why to vote no for the Libertyville High School referendum. Taxes, taxes, taxes. I can't afford it. Haven't you heard? There's a recession. I pay enough to the schools, and if there isn't enough room, it's the school's fault. Every time a new home is built, the builder has to donate money to that particular school for the children of that family to attend that school. So what did they do with the money? Listen up, how many times do we have to tell you? I don't think it's fair that you don't listen to the people. We said no, twice. Doesn't that mean anything? I guess not, because you're doing it again. Don't come crying to the taxpayer because the money was mismanaged or the school didn't ask for enough.

Grass Lake Circus

The circus is in town, however, it's not being performed under the big top. Once a month the Grass Lake School Board puts on a three-ring circus in the school's media center. I've been told that this month's performance featured the righteous mighty majority voting against hearing and discussing two separate complaints in executive session. I guess they temporarily forgot that one of the reasons they were elected is to represent the people. How can you represent what you do not take the time to communicate with? Once again, it seems the personality wars between certain board members took precedence over doing the right and decent thing. I didn't make this particular meeting. Had I been there, I could have named several instances each and every one of those "no" voters were treated fairly by the system. Too bad they didn't have the foresight and decency to extend the same courtesy and rights to others. Some people never learn from their mistakes. One would expect these slow learners to step down and open the doors to others more capable of basing decisions on the issues, rather than who is involved in a particular issue. Enough is enough, people. Too bad for us all that it's not election time for Grass Lake School Board members. I know of at least three people who would not be elected. Thanks. I'm calling from Antioch.

Smoke? Shop Elsewhere

I'm calling to respond to the person who doesn't shop at Hawthorn Mall because there's not a designated smoking area. Maybe there's no designated area to smoke because smoking isn't healthy, and the non-smokers don't want smoke in their lungs. And Vernon Hills is a way classier town than Gurnee or where Lakehurst is, and they have designated smoking areas, but we are more health conscious people, so we don't want people like her shopping in our mall, anyway. I also want to tell her that she should quit smoking because smoking is bad for her health.

Thank You

We are residents of Gurnee and our dog was hit by a car or cars on Friday evening when he slipped through our backyard gate. We want to express our sincere gratitude and appreciation for the many people who stayed with him, making sure he was comfortable. Very special thanks and recognition needs to go to police officer Ron Zani who went beyond the call of duty and finding a veterinarian still open and taking Willie to him, even though he may have had to pay the bill himself. He searched our neighborhood until he found us and showed us where Willie was for the night. Next morning, not only did Officer Ron Zani call the vet, but so did two of the girls who stopped to help. Willie is very special to us and our handicapped daughter. And we are very grateful to have him back. Thanks to all of the wonderful and caring people who helped make sure Willie made it.

This Is Him

This call isn't a gripe or anything of that nature, it's more of an informative type of call. On Friday, Oct. 16, at the intersection of Rte. 41 and Rte. 132, there was a dog hit by a car. The dog was sort of a mixed spaniel, white and black. Several vehicles stopped, people got out of their cars, quite a few ladies actually put their coats on the dog to keep it warm. A police officer arrived at the scene, I was the police officer. The reason why I asked everyone to get off of the highway was to prevent an accident, of which we've had fatal accidents at that exact location. Once I got the people off the roadway, I took the dog to an animal hospital. The dog was treated that night by a vet who was closing and on his way home, but he cared enough to help. I just wanted to let all those people who stopped to lend aid to the dog who was hit by a car to know that the owner was found, the dog is healthy and has recovered from his injuries.

Democratically Speaking?

Hey, Lakeland. Why don't you change Joe Soulak's column from Politically Speaking to Democratically Speaking? Obviously, he is a Democratic. And, very obviously, he hates Phil Crane. What happened to fair reporting? Give Phil Crane a break.

Lazy Libertyville Cops

It really upsets me to read an article in your paper from Oct. 16, 1992 about the Libertyville police chief, and the fact that the Libertyville has a rising crime rate and traffic problems since the police chief has been in office there. What I'm complaining about is that I drive around Libertyville during the day and see these officers sitting two-by-two in the parking lot at the funeral home, the parking lot at the train lot, the parking lot of Komatsu Dresser. What are they doing? No wonder the crime rate is up? These guys should be patrolling the area. It's not the chief's fault. It's the fact that the police are not doing what they are supposed to be doing.

It's Not So Bad

I'm calling from Round Lake Beach and I would like to say how fortunate we are to live in this area while other communities are trying to get libraries, park districts and recreation areas. We have all of that and more. It's great to live in the Round Lake area these days.

Why Increase?

Regarding the Libertyville High School tax referendum, the overcrowding is only a temporary inconvenience. With discipline, restructuring and belt tightening, the

FINANCIAL SERVICES DESIGNED FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

Scholarship service helps students find fund sources

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

As a student, ever seek information about college financial aid, only to have to wait several minutes for a counselor and then find out you don't qualify?

As far as Steve Jones is concerned, this situation happens too often in today's high schools. In July, Jones started Jones Scholarship Resources, designed to help those frustrated find sources of college funds.

"Counseling departments can't help every student and we're there for students who fall through the cracks in the system," Jones said.

Jones operates the business out of his Gages Lake home. The Warren Township High School and College of Lake County graduate does not have an elaborate staff, but an 800 number and reams of folders on college funding.

"My clients have included a Polish lady who was told by CLC there was no money. I got several sources for her," Jones said.

According to the introduction on his answering machine, some $30 billion in federal funds for education go unclaimed. Meanwhile, college costs are rising 10 percent a year. Jones recommends choosing careers early, meaning early graduation and saving money on tuition.

ScholarshipSearch is a personalized step-by-step strategy to help students in high school or college locate and qualify "for many scholarships and financial aid sources you are eligible for," Jones states through a flier.

One of his brochures tells of "10 ways to stretch your scholarship chances". Another discusses a computerized career planning source for career selection; ways to raise SAT scores is the topic for a third publication; His efforts have met obstacles, most notably high school counseling departments.

Ron Taulu, counselor at Warren Township High School, offers two workshops on financial aid annually. "From what we can see, a lot of private college and universities are giving big scholarships to highly qualified students, those in the top 10 to 15 percent of their graduating class or those who score well on the ACT or SAT," Taulu said.

But a "C" student may have to demonstrate need to obtain financial aid money.

Parents are often shocked when they find they do not qualify for financial aid.

Taulu said every service offered by a company such as Jones' is at the high school for free.

Students who fill out all the forms correctly, use the national processing center in California and still cannot obtain aid, are eligible for a $250 savings bond.

Checking the forms

Steve Jones, founder of Jones Scholarship Resources checks on the latest fine print for scholarships. Jones, a Gages Lake resident, has offered his service since July.

Scholarship service gives tips in obtaining funding

Jones Scholarship Resources has a brochure that outlines 10 strategies for students who wish to obtain more financial aid for college.

The highlights of the steps:

"Learn how to complete your state and federal applications in a manner that will get you the largest reward. "Students who qualify for most of the state and federal student aid programs do so because they know how to present their family's financial circumstances in a manner which will get them the most favorable evaluation on their state and federal financial aid applications," the brochure states.

Other tips: file for all the state, federal, campus-based scholarships and student air programs on the earliest dates provided; apply for academic and special interest scholarships; opportunities through your parents' employment or military benefits and religious affiliations.

Also: CO-OP work study programs. Students can earn a part-time income of $5,000 a year or more in one of 11 career fields.

Athletic study opportunities: one does not need to be the standout athlete — many scholarships are offered in such sports as like sailing, badminton, gymnastics, bowling, archery, fencing, rowing, swimming, skiing and volleyball.

Student loans: Tuition Stabilization Plans, Family Ed Planning, Grad Ed Financing, The Alliance Loan, HEAL, HPSL, Nursing Student Loan Program, The APPLE Loan Assumption Program, PLUS, CLAS, etc.

Students should be ready to be prepared to present their case for a better financial package to the director of financial aid.

For more information on Jones Scholarship Resources, call 1-800-643-7577.

Business Briefs

Program offers home buyers alternative

Waukegan—First Midwest Bank, N.A., announced the availability of a new mortgage program called CD/Mortgage Program that offers home buyers an alternative to a traditional cash down payment. It was developed in response to research that 53 percent of today's home buyers—especially first time buyers—require some form of monetary assistance from parents or other sponsors.

The plan is designed to allow a parent (or other sponsor) of a first-time home buyer to purchase a First Midwest Bank Certificate of Deposit. The value of the CD must equal 20 percent of the home's purchase price. The CD, with a maturity of five years, serves as collateral in lieu of a cash down payment. During that time the CD continues to earn interest for the parent or sponsor. Interested parties should contact a mortgage specialist at 623-1250 for complete information about the program.

CSWBC links women together for success

Presently, women are starting businesses at twice the rate of men. And women want to keep their businesses going and growing. One way women can do that is to team up with a mentor—a woman entrepreneur who's been in business longer, who's faced similar challenges, found solutions and wants to share what she's learned, one-on-one with someone in the process of growing a business.

The Chicago Suburban Women's Business Council will kick-off the nationally recognized mentor/protégé program at their fall meeting on Oct. 30 from 8 to 10:30 a.m. at Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge.

Established in 1991, the CSWBC is one of five local Illinois Women's Business Councils and was quickly recognized as a valuable resource for Chicago Suburban Women Entrepreneurs. As part of the statewide network of WBCouncils, CSWBC now links women business owners with a variety of business development resources. The CSWBC provides a forum for exploring issues not always address by local business organizations and works in partnerships with Illinois' Small Business Development Centers at Elgin Community College and Evanston Business Investment Corporation.

For more information about the Chicago Women's Business Council and the Illinois Women's Network for Entrepreneurial Training, call Melissa Giovagnoli at 882-9913.

Transferring ownership of the family business

by DONALD N. CRAMPTON

Despite our difficult economic times, there are today thousands of enterprising individuals who have built small businesses that provide millions of jobs and earn their founders substantial economic rewards.

The success of many of these companies is a direct reflection of the hard work of their founders and, nearly as often, the active participation and sacrifices of members of their immediate or extended families. But, their success stories hide a tragic reality.

Conflicts

Every day a family business dies because the founder, so successful at establishing and building it, is unable to resolve conflicts which arise among his or her family members. These conflicts may relate to the conduct of the business, arise from disagreements as to which of them should direct its affairs after the owner retires or dies, or both.

Too often, the family business owner is either unwilling or emotionally unable to pass control of its affairs easily and comfortably to the son or daughter most capable of effectively succeeding him. The owner bequeaths the business to two or more of his children who have vastly different levels of commitments to it.

One child wants to build the business. Another

This Way to Wealth

wants to take all he can from it—now. Left unresolved, their conflict will inevitably ruin the enterprise. In the process, family relationships are wrecked, as well. Everyone loses—the founder and the founder's spouse, the children and their families, employees and customers.

Many steps

While there are many steps which can be taken to minimize these pitfalls, two come immediately to mind. First, to straighten out tangled interpersonal relationships, family members should talk to someone outside the business who has no financial interest in it. This is someone trained to deal with human emotions that are further complicated by involvement with and dependence on the family business.

Kenneth Kaye, PhD, a Chicago-based family business consultant, says that "communication is the key to the successful resolution of conflicting views among family members, as well as directly affected non-family officers or executives. Communication problems are difficult to deal with under normal, non-pathological circumstances, but they must be effectively addressed, nonetheless. To live with communication problems among these people is to inject a cancer into the business.

Secondly, founders should not try to fit square pegs into round holes. Some children are just not cut out to enter or continue in the family business. Others may have interest, but demonstrate no real ability.

Adult children

"Discussing these problems" according to Kaye, "should start as soon as the adult child enters the business or shows an interest in doing so. By dealing with them early, they won't be allowed to fester and complicate future management and succession goals."

It is a simple fact that there is no percentage in forcing someone into something for which he has no aptitude. Usually, the underlying reason for ignoring this principal is that the founder and his spouse want to be financially "fair" to all their children by splitting ownership, and nearly as frequently the management of a valuable business equally among them, resulting in a situation that brings nothing but pain to everyone.

Why not make specific and personal provisions for children who have widely different interests and abilities? Is there any real reason for a child pursuing a career in music to have as much say in the conduct of a metal fabricating business as his brother, who works diligently in the business every day?

Effective succession planning can include the substitution of other assets for the benefit of the child not expected to enter the business. Life insurance proceeds on the founder and/or his spouse can be directed to the child not entering the business in place of, but equal in value to, the company's stock left to the child or children selected to continue its operation. Other property, such as real estate or equities, can be apportioned among the children to reach the same objective.

Donald N. Crampton, CLU, ChFC is president of Crampton, Lewis & Company, Inc., Chicago. He is a member of a panel of financial experts preparing This Way TO Wealth. Questions are invited by writing to this newspaper or 2203 B Lakeside Dr., Bannockburn, IL 60015.

Dance spot eyed by young businessman

Prompted by a resurgence in dancing, a young mail room assistant has a dream of opening an entertainment center that will cater to dancers of all ages and provide a wholesome recreational spot for young people.

"No drugs. No gangs. No alcohol," vows Eric Betz, 19, who feels he correctly has gauged a public pulse that is ready for a meeting place and fun spot that is "safe, clean and non-alcoholic."

Betz is looking for investors and supporters to buy into his dream that there are enough people sharing his interest in dancing as a wholesome recreational pursuit to make the spot successful.

"Dancing is making a big comeback. It's a major form of expression," remarked Betz, who prefers black as the color of choice for his attire that might be described as hip by an earlier generation.

Betz insists that his spot will be multi-generational. Weekends will be targeted for a group ranging from junior high to the early 20's, but he wants to reserve some week nights for adult groups for either DJ's or live bands.

"Basically, I want to fill a community need for a place for people to go and have fun, especially people who love to dance. You can't find decent dance places in Chicago. They're all too crowded. You get crushed. I want a spot with plenty of room," remarked Betz, who said he is ready to invest the proceeds from an insurance settlement in the proposed business.

As a theme, Betz envisions a soda fountain atmosphere of the 50's where drinks like Green River and cherry Coke are served and you can buy hotdogs and hamburgers.

"Have you ever had a real Green River," asks Betz, who is a graduate of Grant High School and is employed by All State Insurance, Lincolnshire. "There's nothing like a real Green River made from syrup and soda. I know a place that puts whipped cream on the top. Indescribable," he raptured.

But Betz gets down to earth when he talks about the business side of his dream enterprise. He feels an admission charge of $2 to $4 will be necessary. Security will be stringent to filter out weapons and drug users. Security also will be necessary to ward all intrusion of gang members, he adds. "We'll have to keep the gangs a bay," is the way he put it.

Betz described his personal tastes in music as coinciding with young people today. That means there will be a blend of punk, light alternative and "house" which he described as a variation of rap.

The angular youth even has his eye on an ideal spot, a shuttered former marina on Grand Ave., Ingleside, near Fox Lake, that is easily accessible from population centers throughout Lake County, McHenry County and southern Wisconsin.

Betz identified the place as the former Howdy Marine, which has an upper level that would be ideal for games. Betz admitted that he wasn't sure if the place is available. Because of a nautical exterior, Betz feels an idea name for the dance center would be "Lighthouse."

Betz acquired a flair for showmanship by participating in high school plays. He said his mother is skeptical about his business plans and his father is non-committal. "They know that I'm going to need a lot of financial backing."

Eric has a ready response for the latter hurdle. Write him at 36372 N. Wesley Rd., Ingleside, Ill., 60041, for further information.

Personnel

Andrew Biel

Andrew Biel, Licensed Massage Practitioner, has opened an office in downtown Antioch. A graduate of Seattle Massage School's extensive program, Biel has training in deep tissue, Swedish, trigger point, sports massage and hydrotherapy. He is licensed in the state of Washington, nationally certified, and a member of the American Massage Therapists Assn.

Terry Denoma

Terry Denoma, broker owner of Century 21 Leech, Lindenhurst, has announced his office affiliation with the Kenosha County Board of Realtors and Multiple Listing Service. Century 21 Leech has been an Illinois Licensed office for over 12 years. Century 21 Leech has almost $30 million in closed sales already in 1992, proving the dual licensing is paying off. Leech is a full service real estate office with 24 full time, experienced agents and a staff of certified appraisers.

Mike Zigmund

Mike Zigmund of Elk Grove, an agent in the Country Companies Lake Zurich Agency, has moved to the Country Companies office located in Lake Zurich. Zigmund began his career with the Country Companies in 1991 in the Lake Zurich Agency's Wauconda office. He received a bachelor's degree in management from Illinois State University. He is currently working towards the Life Underwriters Training Council designation.

State Can Claim 3 Big Spenders

Porter, Rosty, Russo High in Staff, Office Costs

Washington Bureau / Chicago Sun-Times
WASHINGTON—Three Chicago area congressmen rank among the top 13 percent spenders last year in the House of Representatives, an extensive study of spending by the state congressional offices showed.

ON THE HOUSE

Second in series

top of the delegation if spending for the salaries of at least some of the 100 staffers at the House Ways and Means Committee, which he chairs, were included. Only funds for personal office staffs were counted. The study also ranked Rostenkowski high in mailing expenses. The chief Republican Rep. John E. Porter was the biggest spender among the state delegation, ranking 34th among all 435 members of the House, according to the analysis by Gannett News Service-USA Today.

CONGRESSIONAL SPENDING

Here is a list of spending by Illinois House members in 1991. The numbers were compiled from the quarterly reports issued by the Clerk of the House. They reflect spending only from personal offices. They do not include the member's salary. In addition, the House has many accounts that can cover spending that cannot be allocated to individual members because of the way the expenditures are reported. And many members, including committee chairmen, ranking members of committees and party leaders, have access to staff and other resources that are not included in the member's report.

Michael Kennedy speaks out.

"Congressional spending is mortgaging our future. This begins with the widespread abuse of perks. When elected, I will start by moving to eliminate all bulk mail privileges. This will save more than $60 million a year in the House alone and is a first step toward the fiscal responsibility our nation must have."

Don't neglect woody plants in winter preparations

Now that winter lurks around the corner with frigid winds and six-foot snow drifts, you start thinking about new antifreeze for your car and weatherstripping your front door. Don't neglect the woody plants in your landscape when making all of these winter preparations.

The most important aspect in avoiding winter damage is selecting hardy plant material. Observe other home landscapes and area parks to get a general idea of plants that perform well. If you notice an unfamiliar or unusual specimen, investigate it thoroughly before planting.

Pruning late in the season may instigate tender, lush growth. For spring-flowering plants, pull out the pruning tools in June; those that bloom in summer and fall are best pruned in February or March when they are dormant.

Woody plants need to go into the winter with adequate soil moisture. Water trees and shrubs with one to two inches of water until frost if rains fail to give you that amount.

Two to three inches of mulch around tree roots help keep soil moisture and temperature levels even. Use shredded hardwood bark, ground corn cobs or compost, and avoid burying the crown, which may result in rot or rodent damage.

Anti-transpirants work especially well in protecting new plantings, evergreens and broad-leaved evergreens from browning due to desiccation. Apply these according to label directions before severe weather sets in to prevent rapid moisture loss caused by winter winds.

Hungry animals can cause serious damage by gnawing on exposed tree trunks and shrub stems. Encircle the trunk or enter shrub with chicken wire to a height three feet taller than expected snow fall (a difficult prediction to make). Painting the trunk with Thiram formulated as an animal repellent and mixed according to label directions also de-ters the varmints for a time.

Alternate freezing and thawing cause cracks in tree bark, an attractive entrance for insects and disease. Your best solution? Paint the southern and western sides of the trunk and the top of lower branches with white paint. Mix one part indoor latex paint with nine parts water, and brush it on the main trunk from the ground up to the bottom branches. Use white paint on a smooth trunk, not on older trees with fissured, plated or peeling bark. Thiram for rodent control lasts longer when added to the paint mixture and applied as described.

Year-round blooms brighten homes

Autumn leaves don't have to be your last glimpses of garden color this year. A variety of fall- and winter-blooming house plants is just waiting to brighten your home throughout an otherwise dreary winter.

According to the Garden Council, poinsettias and Christmas cactus aren't the only plants that can add color to the gray winter months. The cactus is now available in bloom from Thanksgiving to Easter, and in white, pink, orange and scarlet as well as the conventional deep rose. Begonias in tremendous variety bloom in winter, and many go right on through the year.

The list of indoor delights for fall and winter is so long that you can have, with a little searching, a different plant in bloom every month. Keep one fact in mind: Flowering indoor plants need considerable light to do their thing. They may survive in low light along with ferns and many foliage plants, but they won't bloom without good light from a bright east window, or better still, a west or south window. If the latter is extremely bright, a thin curtain will prevent sunburn on the foliage.

Fall and winter blooms
Once fashionable, and becoming so again as hybridizers work magic with color and plant habit, flowering maples (Abutilon) are small shrubs with maple-like leaves and bell-shaped flowers in white, yellow, orange, or red, often handsomely veined in contrasting colors. Some have foliage with white or yellow markings.

Anthuriums are big, glossy, patent-leathery-looking scarlet or pink flowers imported from Hawaii to adorn hotel lobbies and florists' displays. They are too difficult for house culture, but their Costa Rican relative the pigtail anthurium (A. scherzerianum) is fairly easy, and its three-inch scarlet flowers are just as bright.

The chenille plant (Acalypha hispida) has dangling eight- to 20-inch clusters of fuzzy red catkins that resemble drapery fringes.

Bloom

An upright grower, it can reach shrub size but can be kept restrained by pinching. A relative, the firetail plant (A. repens), is a trailer for hanging basket culture; its three-inch catkins drop from the end of every branch.

Aphelandra is as notable for its waxy, white-veined leaves as for its dense spikes of flowers peeping out of colorful leaflike bracts. Spikes on A. aurantiaca are reddish orange; A. squarrosa has yellow spikes.

Queen's tears (Billbergia nutans) is probably the easiest bromeliad (pineapple relative) to grow indoors.

Its rosettes of foot-long leaves produce arching, drooping spikes of flowers improbably colored pink, green, and blue. It blooms in February.

Caroline jessamine (Gelsemium sempervirens) covers itself with sweetly fragrant golden yellow flowers in late winter. Grow it on a stake or trellis as a vine, or let it trail from a basket. The plant is poisonous if eaten.

Winter jasmine (Jasminum polyanthum) is a vigorous vine with glossy, finely-divided foliage and clouds of fragrant white blossoms opening from pink buds in February.

Grow it as a vine or hanging basket plant.

Sweet olive (Osmanthus fragrans) is an evergreen shrub which can bloom at any time, although it usually peaks in winter. It has tiny white flowers with a magnificent fruity fragrance. Year-round blossoms

Flower lovers who want some action from their plants all year long have an even wider palette to choose from.

Here are a few of many: Fibrous-rooted begonias of the "angel wing" kind have handsome waxy leaves and clusters of flowers nearly without end. Salmon rose 'Corallina de Lucerna' is best known. Pale pink 'Elaine' and nearly white 'La Paloma' are relative newcomers.

Madervillas have glossy deep green foliage and big pink morning-glory shaped flowers. M. 'Alice du Pont' is a climber of trailer with mid-pink bloom; M. sanderi 'Red Riding Hood' is a more compact grower, with nearly red flowers.

The goldfish plant (Nematanthus) is named for the fat-bellied, pinch-mouthed orange, red, and yellow flower that look much like their namesake. Neat, glossy deep green foliage grows compactly along trailing or upright stems.

The Egyptian star flower (Pentas lanceolata) produces tight clusters of star-shaped white, pink, lavender, or red flowers at the tips of its branches.

The moth orchid (Phalaenopsis) is probably the easiest orchid to grow indoors. Its long, arching or erect sprays of white, pink, yellow, or dotted and striped flowers have an incredibly long life span on the plant; several months is not unusual.

The peace lily (Spathiphyllum) is the most likely of house plants to bloom in low light conditions. It makes masses of long, lance-shaped deep green leaves. White flowers like ironed-out calla lilies are held well above the foliage.

students and teachers will survive. Families are getting smaller, and if the school structures were enlarged, in eight to 10 years, we would be burdened with unnecessary, costly space. Granted, the quality of our schools is an important factor to our property values and resale, but if you look at Hawthorn Woods, you will see that their property values have deteriorated substantially due to their outrageous property taxes. The crowded schools are temporary; high property taxes are forever. By the way, Lipservice, Lakeland, I think this is an excellent format.

You've Made Your Bed...

The Libertyville School administrators have again wasted our tax dollars. They hired a group of so-called experts to convince the voters to pass the tax referendum. Perhaps, the money would have been more wisely invested on a group of fund-raising experts. Although these are public schools, we are in the middle of a tax revolt and the schools need to change their mind-set that tax payers owe it to them. Carmel High, a private school, funds all their needs of space and supplies, with donations and extremely effective fund-raising activities. Even hospitals build additions with donations and fund raisers. Imposing a tax increase to all the residents, including seniors on a fixed income, is not a palatable option. I propose the tax payers would be more sympathetic and generous if the need were demonstrated by the schools themselves through massive fund-raising efforts.

Overcharging?

I live in Gurnee, therefore I shop at a Gurnee grocery store — but this was my last time. I have been checking my receipt every time I get home from a Gurnee grocery store, and every week I am overcharged from 30 cents to $2.10. Now, when I complained about this one week, I was told "Oh, it's just a mistake. We don't change our scanners all the time." Well, excuse me. I've started to believe that it's not just a mistake, it's a way of business. The owner of those stores must need my 30 cents to $2.10 more than I do. I suggest he starts a policy like the other grocery store. Whenever items don't scan the same as the shelf price, it's given to you free. I'm done shopping in Gurnee.

Get The Hint?

This is one more comment in regard to TCI Cable. I took last week's newspapers and cut out all the articles pro and con, mostly con, and I pasted them on a piece of paper and sent them to Mr. Rick Tuttle. I hope this will help some of us.

Father Clinton

Does anybody else in America think that Clinton looks like one of those preachers on television, just out to smooth talk us out of our money? Let us know.

Fiscal Irresponsibility

The senior citizens of Lake County are asked to tighten their belts and subsidize on a 3 percent pay increase in their social security checks in the upcoming year. County employees and most in the private sector will have to live on the 3 percent increase if they have a job at all. The Lake County Board has cut budgets from departments offering much needed services to a growing constituency. Further more, the board has issued a directive to all department heads stating no new or expanded state or federal grants shall be accepted that require use of county resources of any kind. The Lake County Health Department relies heavily on these types of grants. Yet, the Lake County Board has just voted in an 8 to 13 percent pay increase for the coroner, circuit court clerk and recorder of deeds positions. This is fiscal irresponsibility on the part of the county board members in favor of this.

But Which Country?

President George Bush says that he will increase 30,000 jobs if he is elected. But in what country? Was he referring to Mexico.

Jobs to Wisconsin

One-hundred new jobs go to Wisconsin. The Lake County Forest Preserve under the leadership of President Andrea Moore has condemned six-plus acres of industrial-zoned property with Soo Line Rail Service in industrial Rondout. Purpose: To create a parking lot for forest preserve visitors on the adjoining 400-plus forest preserve acres. The new job will go to Wisconsin. Please consider Andrea Moore's priorities in her leadership. What if your job was one of the 100 jobs eliminated. Consider this when you decide to vote for the new state representative on Nov. 3. Signed, Don Stolzman.

Seniors Are Not Dinosaurs

Hi. I live in Park City and my parents are senior citizens. I read that Phil Crane's opponent thinks that Crane is a dinosaur. I think that anytime you call a senior citizen a dinosaur, it's very offensive. My parents are very productive, kind and highly intelligent. I resent the fact that she thinks people who are older are dinosaurs.

Need War Vet

I'm from Mundelein and have a gripe about the 8th District Congressional race. We need a congressman who knows the horrors of war. We need a congressman like Phil Crane. His brother served in Viet Nam. He served in Korea. His brother died in Korea.

Who Needs Honesty?

So, Pam Newton claims that she was truly ignorant of the fact that her payment in kind money came from all types of housing, construction companies and waste management, so what. After all, since when did truthfulness and brains become a qualification for becoming a government official anyway. She'll fit right in. Vernon Hills.

Good Job, Bad Job

This is my gripe and also some praise. Isn't it the Fox Lake Press I receive? Where are the pictures of Grant teams? I thought that they should have their pictures in there. It seems that every other team's picture is in there (Continued on page 31)

Concerned About Breast Cancer?

Detecting it early could save your life.

Detected early, treated correctly and monitored aggressively, breast cancer can be cured. More women than ever before are living life to the fullest following a successful battle against breast cancer. Early detection is key to success.

North Point Medical Dental Center, an affiliate of Cancer Treatment Centers of America® — a national leader in comprehensive cancer treatment — is a leader in cancer prevention and early detection.

Our outpatient screening program can detect breast cancer early when the disease is most treatable.

North Point's comprehensive breast screening services include:

- An examination by a woman physician who specializes in breast cancer detection and treatment.

- A mammogram properly interpreted by a skilled physician. Mammograms are designed to detect abnormalities too small to see or feel. A baseline mammogram is highly recommended to identify problems which may develop.

- A practical demonstration by a physician or nurse on the correct way to perform breast self examination.

- Nutritional assessment and dietary recommendations to reduce your breast cancer risk.

- A library with videotapes, books and other resources about breast cancer prevention, detection and treatment.

- Second opinion counseling for patients seeking further evaluation of a previously diagnosed problem.

Compact fluorescents can lower energy bills

Indoor and outdoor lighting helps make your home more secure and safe. Using regular incandescent lights to do the job, however, can be expensive. New compact fluorescent lights can give you the same light levels, but because they use electricity so efficiently, they cost less to use. By using energy so efficiently, compact fluorescent also helps to preserve our natural resources and protect the environment, according to the Edison Electric Institute and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, two national associations of electric utilities.

Compact fluorescents (so-called because they screw-in like a regular incandescent bulb) use about one fourth of the electricity their incandescent counterparts use. For instance, a 13 or 18 watt compact fluorescent light can replace a 75 watt incandescent light bulb. This helps to lower your monthly electric bill. And once you install a compact fluorescent bulb, it lasts up to ten times as long as an incandescent bulb.

Compact fluorescents do cost more than incandescent bulbs. The compact fluorescent range in price from $12 to $24. But because they use electricity so efficiently, and because you do not need to change them as often, compact fluorescents pay you back the difference in purchase price relatively quickly.

To get this payback, however, the lights must be used where they are on for more than two hours per day. In most homes, these high-use areas will be in the kitchen, hallway/stairways, porch lights and in outdoor security lighting fixtures. The size of some compact fluorescent bulbs may not fit all light fixtures, however, so you should consider this before you buy. Also, in outdoor fixtures, such as porch lights or post lights, very cold winter weather will cause a delay in the compact fluorescent lighting up.

Many electric utilities now offer a financial incentive to help lower a compact fluorescent's purchase price. You may want to call them to get more information before you buy a compact fluorescent bulb, or for that matter, any other major energy-consuming product. Your electric utility can help you learn how to use energy wisely throughout your home.

Appliances should be certified

Consumers who're looking for natural gas appliances should look for the Blue Star Design Certification Seal from the American Gas Association Laboratories or a similar safety certification from another nationally recognized testing agency, A.G.A. officials say.

The A.G.A. Blue Star is your assurance from the manufacturer that the design of the natural gas appliances you're buying complies with national safety standards.

Dedicated to appliance safety and efficiency, the A.G.A. Laboratories in Cleveland and Los Angeles have tested more than 58,000 equipment models submitted by more than 500 manufacturers during the past 66 years. Many local building codes and standards require A.G.A. certification on natural gas equipment.

Trees help lower utility bills

An often overlooked method of lowering your house's energy use is increasing the number of trees on your property. Planting the right tree in the right location can help lower your heating and cooling costs. And because you are using energy efficiently, you are also helping to protect the environment, according to the Edison Electric Institute and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, two national associations of electric utilities.

Deciduous and evergreen trees work together to block the hot summer sun and cold winter winds. The right combination of these trees can also protect your home from noise and dust too.

Deciduous trees have broad leaves, and include oak, maple and elm trees. These trees should be planted on the south and west sides of your home, the areas where the sun's rays reach your house. In the summer, the deciduous trees will help block the hot summer sun. This in turn will lower your air conditioning costs.

In the winter, the same deciduous trees have now lost all their leaves, and allow the sun's warmth to reach your house. This helps to lower your heating bills.

Evergreen trees should be planted on the north and west side of your house. Here, these trees with their branches of thick green needles, can then block the cold winter winds.

Low trees and shrubs planted close to your home reduce wind currents and create a "dead air" space that helps to reduce heat loss in the winter. It also helps to buffer your home from hot outside air in the summer.

When planting trees, remember to watch out for overhead power lines. Trees with a low mature height, less than 25 feet, are recommended for plantings under power lines. Be sure to check with your electric utility's forestry department, or your local nursery to help you decide which tree is best.

Like other artists, Misunas uses a sketch pad to develop art ideas. At right, an artist's tools.

Artists display skill, pride in Waukegan art exhibit

Everett Misunas and Elizabeth Whitten-Misunas stand outside the Atelier.

For artists Everett Misunas and Elizabeth Whitten-Misunas, inspiration is always hovering nearby, a shadowy friend. An ambling passerby, a city skyline, a crumbling barn, an insight leaping unexpectedly from a sketchbook page: The spark may come from anywhere.

And for 40-plus years, they've tried responding as only artists can—with curiosity, patience, skill...and hope. After all, what's accomplished if someone looks at an artist's work, then walks away unmoved?

It's a risk every artist willingly faces, the Waukegan couple agreed.

"Artists want to share a particular moment, but you never know what others will think," Whitten-Misunas said.

"But you can only go where inspiration takes you."

Misunas and Whitten-Misunas join fellow Lake County artist Skip Weise as hosts of the 17th annual "Five to Show" art exhibit Oct. 23-25 in their Waukegan studios in the Atelier, 19A Genesee.

The show will feature more than 100 displays, artwork culled from the collections of Misunas, Whitten-Misunas, Weise, Wisconsin artist Paul Davis and longtime Waukegan watercolorist Malcolm Layson.

Once only a showing of watercolors, the exhibit now includes oil, acrylic and pastel paintings, as well as ink drawings and etchings. Its compositions range from the traditional to the abstract.

Whitten-Misunas said the variety reflects a changing membership and broadening artistic interests.

Of the show's five original backers, only Whitten-Misunas, Weise and Layson remain. Misunas joined the group 10 years ago, soon after his marriage to Whitten-Misunas. Davis joined in 1987.

Misunas introduced line drawings and etchings, Whitten-Misunas said. Weise introduced displays of oil, acrylic and pastel work into the group's presentations.

The evolution, Weise said, was probably inevitable. Most artists look for different ways to express themselves, and the subtleties of one medium or another medium can give them that flexibility, he explained. And when artists find themselves able to shift from one medium to another, self-expression takes on new meaning.

"You can ask yourself what's in a scene that moves you," said Weise, a retired commercial artist.

"The light? The shadows? The colors? Just a feeling?"

Determine that, he explained, and you can better choose the medium. In much the same sense, artists can take an original scene and change virtually everything about it—composition, colors, shapes and proportions—just to show in their work what they believe, Weise said, is "the essence."

But such versatility only gives artists more ways to go wrong, Misunas said, if they cannot find "the preciousness" of some "inspiring moment."

"And the artist is left," he said, "with only a pretty picture."

The group held its Five to Show exhibit at Layson's North Avenue art studio from 1975 through 1985. The following year, the Grayslake campus of the College of Lake County hosted the show. Since 1987, the exhibit has taken place at the Atelier.

About 300 people attended the show in 1991, many of whom were Lake County patrons of one or more of the group's artists.

But spectators' familiarity with an artist or an artist's work doesn't ensure a show's success, Whitten-Misunas said. Artwork that impresses (and sells) one year, can fail to impress the next. Tastes, interests and buyer expectations change, and as artists flex artistic muscles, they sometimes temper a patron's enthusiasm.

Whitten-Misunas said the most interesting part of the shows for them now is watching people move from one piece of art to another. They'll glance or perhaps pause just a moment or two at some, the couple said, then linger for several minutes at others. Sometimes, Misunas said, he'll learn what interested them.

"But that doesn't concern me as much now as it once did," the artist said. "I know the power of my work when it's good. They know, too."

That power came only through a lifetime of trying.

Misunas has exhibited his art in Lake County since 1946, the same year he began a 37-year career as an art instructor at then-Waukegan East High School. His interest in art had taken him to Northern Illinois University, where he earned an art education degree in 1942. He graduated from the University of Chicago the following year with a master's degree in education before serving three years in the Army. Misunas studied art at the Illinois Institute of Technology during summers during his early years as a teacher.

Since the 1950s, he has been active in Lake County art community, largely through the Lake County Art League.

It was there he met Whitten-Misunas, a Waukegan resident since 1947 and "productive artist" since the 1950s.

But her roots as an artist run genera- (Continued on page 26)

'Mohican's' is adventure

The glory of a technicolor west was never so beautifully displayed as in the latest big film adventure, "The Last of the Mohicans."

This is another fine proof that America's cowboys and Indians are not really passe, ergo, the outstanding success of both "Dances With Wolves," and "The Unforgiven."

This sad story about the vanishing American Indian is set back before the Revolutionary War, when the French fought the English for rights to the new world. This one is full of excitement as well as pathos.

Both sides used Indian tribes for scouting, etc.

The scenery alone justifies the price of admission for anyone who appreciates the wonderful west of this U. S. A.

Oscar winner Daniel Day Lewis ("My Left Foot") plays the romantic lead, the part of the love-sick warrior Hawkeye, who scouts for the British.

The object of his affections, the English lady Cora is ably portrayed by Madeline Stowe.

This flick is full of adventure and bloody fight scenes (some probably more than tasteful discretion would allow) leading to the final plot, the plight of the disappearing Native-American.

The best parts of this movie are when Wes Stud, who plays Magua, the Indian who harbors a fierce hatred of white men, cavorts sanguinely across the screen.

This a beautiful picture, and a horrible one, all mixed up together.

Daniel Day Lewis

Michael Mann's expert direction, spurred on by a strict concentration on authenticity, is a large factor contributing to the picture's quality.

We give "Mohican's" 4.5 with only the excess violence marring what could have been a perfect score. "Mohicans" carries an R-rating here, not a kids' western.—by GLORIA DAVIS

'Of Thee I Sing' adds up to great fun

Critics Choice

Politics is a natural target for satire, and "Of Thee I Sing" gives it a wonderful send-up as the season opener at Chicago's Remains Theater.

With music by George Gershwin and lyrics by Ira Gershwin and adapted from a book by George S. Kaufman, "Of Thee I Sing" focuses on a John P. Wintergreen, the president wannabe in 1931 who runs on a platform of love. To woo voters, his party conducts a national beauty contest, with the winner destined to marry the future president. Except it doesn't work according to plan.

The wickedly funny campaign features windy political speechmaking, but to keep the crowd's attention there are simultaneous boxing matches onstage.

And then there's Alexander Throttlebottom, the doltish vice presidential candidate whose name no one ever seems to remember.

Darren Matthias is all charisma and little else as the candidate whose aim is to appeal to the hearts of Americans and not their intelligence, Richard Maxwell is a likeable dimwit who makes Dan Quayle look like an intellectual giant. Joan Elizabeth charms as the true love whose secret weapon lies in her muffin-making ability, Jennifer Rosin plays the jilted woman to the hilt and Peter Siragusa is in fine form as Wintergreen's right-hand man.

It may not be the most illuminating theatrical experience, but "Of Thee I Sing" has all the elements that add up to great fun. It runs through Nov. 8.—by TOM WITOM

Artist

"My father was a painter, and two grandfathers and a granduncle were sculptors," Whitten-Misunas said. "One of my earliest memories is holding up a picture of a three-masted sailboat so my father might paint it."

She dabbled in watercolors through high school. Earning a living, then marriage kept her from pursuing a serious art career until the mid-1950s. But her work during the next 10 years laid a foundation upon which most of her confidence as an artist rests, she said.

It was from those years, too, that she cultivated the respect and friendship of the artists so important to her now—especially Misunas.

They married in 1981. The strengths they've found together have fortified them both, particularly as artists.

"We could not be more different, as artists go," she said. She is a watercolorist and finds beauty and meaning in shadows and color. He prefers lines and patterns, clear-cut and precise by comparison. One style is as sensual as the other is stark.

"Maybe we're stronger because of the difference," she said. "Maybe the art world is, too."

Things to Know When Visiting Canada

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

One of my earliest childhood memories is a family trip to Canada. Despite having to spend two weeks in a station wagon with four sisters and two very old aunts, it was still an enjoyable trip. However, that long car ride may be one reason why I fly most places now.

Whether flying or driving to Canada, there are some things you should know before you go.

Crossing the border into Canada usually is a simple matter. A passport is not required. However, you will need your Birth Certificate, Baptismal Record or Voter Registration Card. You may not be required to show this upon entry, but the U.S. guys on our side probably are going to ask for it when you come back.

If you're driving, seat belts are mandatory, radar detectors are illegal and minimum vehicle liability insurance of $200,000 is required. Don't get too excited when you see 100 on the highway speed limit signs. That's kilometers per hour not MPH. 100 KPH is only 60 MPH.

If you're driving a rental car, make sure your rental agreement is endorsed for entry into Canada.

There is no need to change your money since the U.S. dollar is accepted most everywhere, but to avoid getting ripped-off by a hotel setting its own exchange rate, I suggest dealing in Canadian money or credit cards. Canadian currency is issued in denominations similar to ours, except it's color coded. Don't look for a Canadian dollar bill, though. Their single dollar is a coin called a "loonie".

Canada also has automatic tellers "ATM's" many of which are connected to U.S. ATM networks.

Unlike restrictions upon returning from Mexico, you may bring back flowers, vegetables and fresh fruit to the United States from Canada.

Canada has a Goods and Service Tax (GST) of 7% which may be claimed as a rebate on goods you buy in Canada and take home to the U.S. with you. Get the forms from Canadian Customs.

Final facts, Canada has 35 national parks, the world's tallest free-standing structure (CN tower in Toronto) and the only walled city in North America (Quebec City).

Music

Classical guitarist

The Lake Forest Symphony will present a concert on Oct. 23 and 24 at 8 p.m. featuring classical guitarist Sharon Isbin. The program is called "Classical Fiesta" with Rodrigo's exotic Concierto de Aranjuez as the evening's highlight. The program will also include performances of Respighi's Gli Uccelli (The Birds) and Haydn's Symphony No. 31 in D Major. All performances are held at Rhoades Auditorium, Chicago Medical School, 3333 N. Green Bay Rd., North Chicago. Single tickets are $25 and $20 per person. For ticket information call 295-2135.

Symphony week

The City of Lake Forest and The Village of Vernon Hills have honored the Lake Forest Symphony by proclaiming now through Oct. 25 as the second annual Lake Forest Symphony week. Celebration on Oct. 24 starting with the Open House of the Lake Forest Symphony Offices, 225 E. Deeparth, Suite 138 in Lake Forest from 10 a.m. until noon. Then Asbury Brass Quintet will perform in market Square on Oct. 24 at 2 p.m. For information call 295-2135.

'Close Ties'

The Barat College Performing Arts Center will present "Close Ties" by Elizabeth Diggs. A warm hearted, funny and eloquently written drama which blends humor and compassion as it comes to grips with the problem of how to provide for the family's aging, yet vibrant matriarch. Performances are Oct. 23, 24 and 25 at Drake Theatre at the Barat College Performing Arts Center, Lake Forest. Tickets are $9 and $7 for students, seniors and groups of 10 or more. Reservations can be made by calling 295-2620.

'The Rimers of Eldritch'

The Lake Forest College Garrick Players Theatre group will open its 90th season on Thursday, Oct. 29 at 8 p.m. with performances of "The Rimers of Eldritch." This play is a drama of jealousy and murder which takes place in the mythical town of Eldritch, a small former mining town in the Midwest, dying amidst an economic drought. Additional performances are Oct. 30 and 31, Nov. 5, 6, and 7 at 8 p.m. with Saturday matinees at 2 p.m. held at Allan Carr Theatre, Hixon Hall. Admission is $4, $1.50 for senior citizens and non-Lake Forest College students. For information and reservations call 735-5210.

Take an adventure to Graceland

Elgin Community College's next tour in the Cultural Adventure Series is a visit to Graceland Cemetery in Chicago on Thursday, Oct. 29. Participants will take a guided walking tour, conducted by docents of the Chicago

Architectural Foundation. Graceland was developed in 1860 by the landscape architect, Ossian Simonds. Soon after its development, it became an exquisite display of architectural monuments and sculpture. Graceland has distinct Victorian features which comprise the majority of its beauty. The tour will leave at 9 a.m. from Elgin Community College. The cost of this tour is $12. For information call Marge Rowe at 888-7370.

Something's Brewing...

The spider webs are hung, the pumpkins are carved, and ghosts, scarecrows and ghouls gawk at humankind from Lake County yards.

"But what should I be this year for Halloween?" echoes inside the homes.

According to local costume dealers, more and more Halloween revelers are foregoing the famous figures or the cute costumes and opting to be spooky.

And that's the direction two Lakeland Newspapers employees took during our Day of the Dead Makeover.

Managing Editor Dan Becker might have got a bit of a headache during his gory makeover which stuck a hand through his head. This special effect was accomplished by Rick Nagel at Center Stage Costumes in Libertyville. Nagel glued the four fingers to Dan's head and a thumb to his right cheek. The final touch was Rick's own blood recipe dripping from the holes in Dan's head.

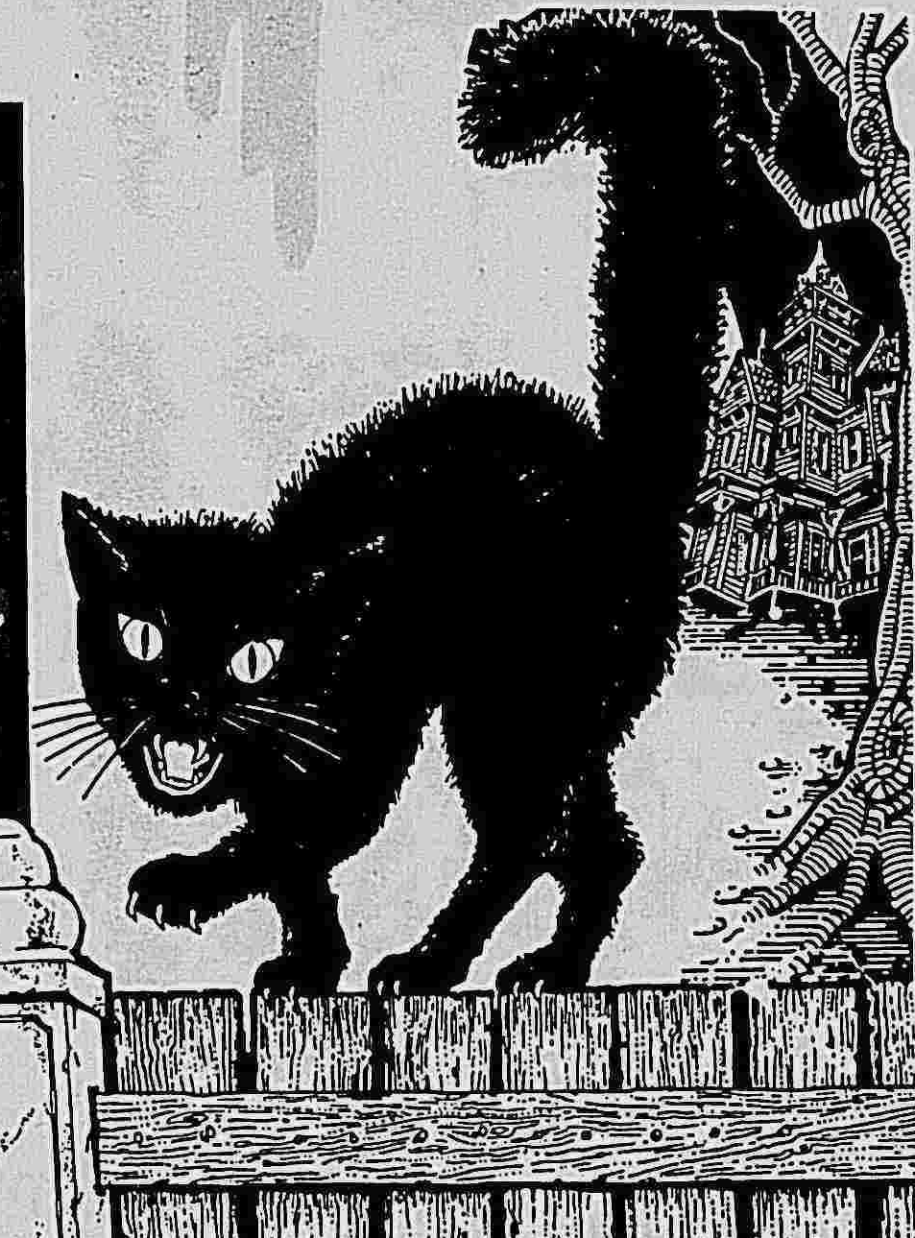

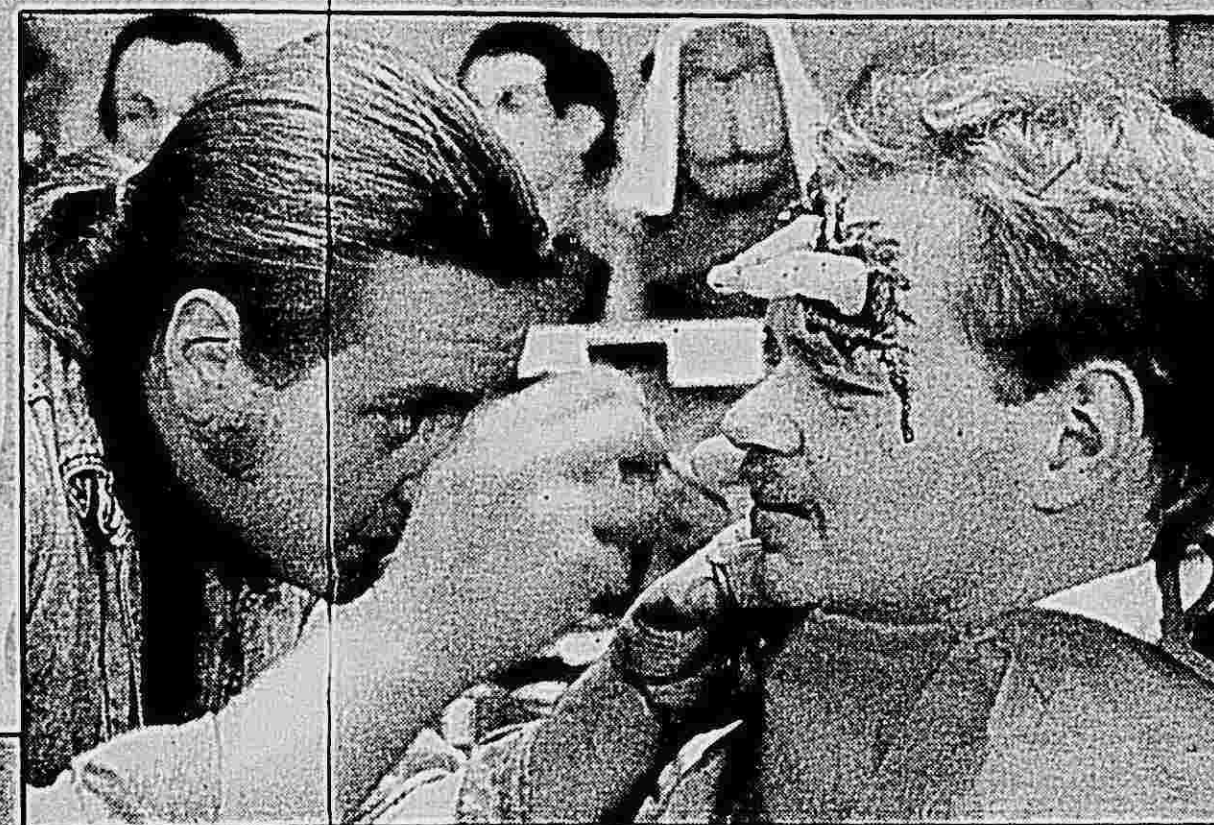

A regular makeover may not have been a big change for Wauconda/Libertyville

Editor Heather McDonald. But her Halloween makeover is undoubtedly our most dramatic makeover yet. Heather was transformed into a witchy woman with the help of Joanne Linker at J.J. Blinks in

Story and photos
by CLAUDIA M. LENART

Antioch. A Wicked Witch of the West nose and chin gave Heather the authentic hag look. Green makeup, a black wig, and the appropriate raven gown and hat turned Heather into something pretty scary. And that's the only time we could use the word "pretty" to describe Heather's transformation.

Time is running out. Take a trip to your local costume shop to gather ideas for your own Halloween metamorphosis. And remember if you're deciding between one of those political figure masks and monster makeup — don't be a fool, be a ghoul.

Rhythm Express rolls into town

Provide a wonderful experience for the whole family by attending the Northbrook Park District's Kids Need Culture Too! series production of Rhythm Express, Sat. Oct. 24 beginning at 2 p.m. in the Field School Auditorium, 3131 Techny Road in Northbrook.

Rhythm Express offers a high energy, fun packed show featuring talented children from 9 to 13 years of age who sing and dance their way into your hearts.

Tickets are priced at $4 per person. For additional information call 291-2980.

Wizard of Wonderland

The Wizard of Wonderland (or Dorothy meets Alice) continues its run at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre for Young Audiences through Oct. 31.

The production tells the story of Judson Watson who finds himself in the Crystal Wood after he nods off while trying to finish his homework assignment. Crystal Wood is a mysterious and unusual place tucked half-way between Oz and Wonderland. Judson meets Dorothy, Alice and many of their storybook friends like the Cowardly Lion, Mad Hatter and Wicked Witch. They try to unscramble their stories in a magical, musical rendezvous that Lewis Carroll and L. Frank Baum could never have imagined.

Performance times are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings at 10 a.m., Saturday mornings at 11 a.m. Ticket prices is $5.50. For more information and reservations contact the box office at 708-634-5909.

The Children's Spoon

Learning the fine art of social graces is easy for youngsters, according to Paula Person, president/founder of The Children's Spoon. Person is presenting a four-week etiquette session this autumn at Allgauer's giving children the tools they need "until they are 103."

Classes will be held on Saturdays, Oct. 24, Oct. 31, Nov. 7 and Nov. 14. The four week session will build self-confidence and poise, along with improved telephone manners and table manners. Parents are the guest at the last class, and children will practice what they have learned with the gift certificate Allgauer's presents to each graduate.

The classes run one hour each and are structured by age groups: 4-5 years, 11 a.m.; 6-8 years, 1 p.m. and 9-14 years, 2:30 p.m. Classes are limited. For more information contact 251-3382.

Halloween tales

Stage Two will host a Storytelling Festival for children from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Halloween Day, Sat. Oct. 31. The festival will feature the right blend of scary but not too scary stories.

For reservations and information call 662-7088.—by RHONDA VINZANT

Please Help

I'm from Grayslake and calling to promote the upcoming the Knights of Columbus Mentally Handicapped Drive on Oct. 23 and 24. We will be on street corners begging or pleading, asking you to ask you help the mentally handicapped. Ninety percent of the funds we collect go back into the local community. Be generous and give us a hand.

Milwaukee Road(s)

I would like to know why we have two Milwaukee Roads. One on Route 83 and one on Route 21. Thank you.

Another Lie

I watched the presidential debate on Thursday, and Clinton said that Arkansas is such a small state, chances are if someone gets laid off, he knows them by name. I would like to know how many factory workers Clinton knows by name. Another Clinton lie?

Don't Need Nurses

I am calling about the schools not having nurses. I have no problem with not having nurses. We don't have nurses at home, why do we need them at school. If my children are hurt or sick, I take them to doctor or emergency room. A secretary is capable of taking a temperature and calling the child's parents for much less money than they would pay the nurses. I am all in favor of no nurses.

Caught You!

At my chiropractor's office, if you don't like something you're told, that's our policy. Well, I have some of my own policies. I don't return to places where I have been treated rudely. I don't return to businesses that have questionable credentials on display. At this office, there is a certificate of training that has no date on it. Where the date should be, it is left blank. I can't help but wonder if it's a real certificate or not. It's a shame we have to question our doctors, but we do. There's a few out there that just aren't worth it. You know who you are, and I'm sure that when you read this, you'll know who I am, too. And that's one less patient you will have.

Stand Firm, Lake Zurich

The planning board has been asked to consider rezoning another Lake Zurich wetland, so it can be developed as an extension to one of our strip malls. That's the last thing we need with empty buildings scattered all over town. The vacancies still have to be patrolled by our police and monitored by the fire department. But other than real estate taxes, they provide nothing for our community. Urge your trustees and planning commissioners to stop needless expansion by holding the line on rezoning.

Big Tax Increase

In November, our taxing politicians will ask us to approve the biggest income tax raise in history — the Berman amendment. If approved, this will raise our state income taxes with a promise to throw more monies at the schools. Have you looked at your latest tax bill? Just by raising our assessed property value, schools automatically receive a huge increase in funds. But that's not enough. Under the pretense of easing property taxes, they want to raise income taxes, but there is no provision to cut our property taxes. So, as long as our Lake County Assessor continues to raise our assessed values, the schools will continue to get raises in the school's portion of property taxes without raising a finger. The money then gets dumped into the education fund where the teachers grab it all. They tell us that our schools are filled to capacity and are falling apart, that the students have to give up valuable programs. Where has all the money gone that our constant property tax increase has generated? To the teachers! Very few of us get the big increases in salary and benefits that have been awarded to the teachers. How many of us have 100 percent of our medical coverage paid by our employers. Let the teachers make some sacrifices for the benefit of the schools and the children. Vote "No" on the proposed education amendment to the Illinois Constitution.

There Is A Library Board

Good evening. I'm a resident of Grayslake and just attended our library board meeting. They meet every second Tuesday of the month at the Grayslake Library.

It was kind of disappointing. Not too many other individuals come out and partake in the future developments of the library. If anyone has gone to the library and seen the congestion in comparison to the new facility in Round Lake, and realized the growth of the community, the residents should partake in the valuable discussions. After all, the library does add value to their property. I hope everyone will come out and talk to the board or stop by the library to give their support and opinions.

In Memory

This is in memory of my wife I love. Whom a fire took to the place above. Now I'm alone to live out my life. With wonderful memories, and some filled with strife. I wish we had more time alone. Work kept me away, a long way from home. My life must go on, and on it will go. When it will end, I just don't know. And when it does, I've prepared in this life, to join the Lord and my wife. In Praise of God, and in love and memory of Kristine.

Good Job, RLPD

I would like to commend the director of the Round Lake Area Park District in developing the Cedar Lake Valley Park in Round Lake. It has good fishing and is a good place for a father and son to spend the weekend. The only thing is that it needs a parking area. There's no place to park. It would also be nice if they had a fishing pier.

Why Say These Things

I was just reading Lipservice in regard to "Nasty Woman." We lost a son in an automobile accident about four years ago. And he was killed by a drunk driver. Barbara Richardson came out to our house at 4 o'clock in the morning and was very kind. I can't understand why people would be saying these things.

If He Did His Job...

I'm calling to "Get Facts Straight." If the police officer had done his job right that night, his name wouldn't be in every newspaper across Lake County. He knows he did wrong. He broke the law and got away with it, and a 16-year-old girl has to live with the nightmare of a cop taking advantage of the situation, and getting away with it. He has fooled everyone with his lies. The truth will come out eventually. If not, I hope he can live with his lies. From Vernon Hills.

Make Your Own Shirt

I'd like to respond to the person who made comments about Hainesville and our police force. Not everyone who is pulled over by any officer in any of our surrounding towns necessarily is guilty. I'm sure many people are innocent, but still get stopped. This happens all the time. But for all the people like you who cut down cops, try to be one. It's a dangerous job each and every time they stop someone. Don't you watch the news? As for your lousy t-shirt, make one.

Put A Muzzle On It

I'm from Lake Zurich. If you tie your dog outside and let it bark and howl, don't expect your neighbors to be friendly. The barking dog is against the law. You have the problem, not them.

Criminal Construction

I'm calling to complain about the absolutely criminal construction of the home my husband and I struggling to pay for in Fox River Shores. I am not the only resident of the subdivision whose home will be down around their knees before the mortgage is paid off. We have five leaks in our house and the construction company could care less. The house is built with cardboard for walls, covered by aluminum siding. It's disgusting and criminal and the construction company should make the repairs.

Live With Your Lies

Libertyville. It seems that no one cares about the girl. She is still a child. And because the cop had the fix in, he got off. There are certain facts of this case that are not known to the public and it should be. I am a mother and worried about my child in the presence of this so-called good cop. The young girl will have to live the rest of her life with the knowledge that the system does not work.

$360 Is Minor?

Just a note to Roger Byrne, trustee of Vernon Hills. Since you feel that the additional $360 per year it will cost in fire protection service by switching residents from Vernon Fire District to Countryside Fire District, how about you pay the difference. After all, you're the one who said it's minor.

Get a kick out of Basils' Champagne Brunch

Despite what the song says, you will get a kick out of champagne. The Champagne Brunch at Basils Restaurant and Bar, that is.

Basils, located in the Ramada Inn at 200 N. Green Bay Rd. in Waukegan, offers an elegant yet inexpensive brunch spread from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. every Sunday. Some of the brunch offerings include scrambled eggs, french toast, crepes, shrimp, bagels and creme cheese, three or four different hot dishes — like beef stroganoff, for instance — vegetables, rice, potatoes, ham, beef and barbecue ribs.

This dining extravaganza — complete with all the champagne you want and a pastry table — is just $8.95.

That should give you an idea of how eager the friendly folks at Basils are to please with great food at reasonable prices. Basils offers complete breakfast, lunch and dinner menus with something suited to every taste and budget.

Looking for a comfy place to watch Monday Night Football? Basils provides free hot dogs, brats and popcorn — you supply the spirit.

Speaking of spirit — or spirits — Basils has a fully stocked bar, complete with a wine list and a good selection of domestic and imported beers.

Basils is the place to party Friday and Saturday nights. A DJ has the musical notation — you show the motion.

Basils' banquet facilities can accommodate groups from 20 to 300 for any special occasion.

And, Basils will come to you with complete catering services.

So for casual dining in a fashionable, friendly atmosphere, check out Basils — you'll be glad you did.

For dining information, call the restaurant at 336-4696. For catering information, call Sue Hovey, director of catering, at 244-2400.

Economic Indicator

Ian Rynex, 5, son of Michael and Carolyn Rynex, Grayslake, attempts to find the economic climate of Grayslake by selling raisins for 25 cents. Rynex said if business goes well, he will diversify and sell lemonade at a later date. No plans for expansion were released at press time. — Photo by Daniel Becker

Abbott clears path for Habitat

A team of Abbott employees and their family members who live in and around Lake Bluff recently helped the Lake Bluff Open Lands Association clear overgrown shrubs and vines from a newly created path in the Belle Forest Prairie in Lake Bluff.

"They were a very enthusiastic bunch of volunteers. I gave them some brief instructions and they went right to cutting, clipping, pulling and stacking all the unwanted plants," said Marcia Heckler, who coordinated the project for the Lake Bluff Open Lands Association.

"We also were happy that many of the Abbott employees brought family members to help. We accomplished a lot and enjoyed ourselves, too," she added.

The project is part of the company's employee volunteer program. This year, Abbott employees have contributed thousands of hours through the company's volunteer program. Other projects included pledges during the WTTW (Channel 11) fund raiser, printing in forest preserve clean-ups, assisting Habitat for Humanity in building homes for low-income families, and helping to renovate the HealthReach medical clinic in Waukegan which serves the area's uninsured and underinsured residents.

Bonnie Brook Fire sets levy meeting

The Bonnie Brook Fire Department and the Bonnie Brook Fire Protection District will host two public informational meetings regarding the upcoming ambulance/paramedic levy. The meetings will be conducted at the Bonnie Brook Fire Station on Lewis Avenue at 7 p.m., Oct. 29 and at 2 p.m., Nov. 1. Each of the meetings will include an information session and a question/answer period.

Currently, residents are taxed only for fire protection and the district claims that it is no longer possible to fiscally support both fire and its emergency medical services on just the fire protection tax income.

For more information, call Chief William Beetschen at 662-2779.

LWV schedules candidate debates

The Lake County League of Women Voters have scheduled the upcoming debates for candidates of the Nov. 3 election.

Oct 22: Round Lake Area Library, 906 Hart Road, Round Lake, 8:30 p.m., Lake County Board District 6—Robert Boness

(D) vs. Larry Leafblad (R).

Oct. 25: Gorton Community Center Community Room, 400 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest, 1 p.m., Representative to Congress District 10—Michael Kennedy (D) vs. John Porter (R).

Festival of Trees tickets on sale

Tickets for Lake County's first-ever Festival of Trees are now on sale at several locations throughout the area. The festival, sponsored by Victory Memorial Hospital Foundation to benefit the HealthReach Clinic, will be conducted at the Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth from Nov. 20 through Nov. 22.

The festival will feature more than 40 designer decorated artificial trees, holiday wreaths, miniatures and gingerbread area, a bake show, a children's area and live entertainment throughout the weekend.

Tickets are $3 for adults, $2 for seniors and $1.50 for children.

For more information, call Victory Memorial Hospital at 360-3000, Ext. 5198.

Donations are needed for the hungry

The Big Lots Store and the YWCA of Lake County will collect food donations of non-perishable items for the COOL program to distribute to needy families in our area for Thanksgiving. Boxes to receive these items will be located inside the store at 1411 N. Lewis Avenue in the Lewis Spring Plaza and the YWCA of Lake County on Belvidere Road.

Griefnotes

Many widowed people complain that they no longer feel comfortable with old friends and in old social situations. In addition, they feel that their empty house and evening hours increase the loneliness. Learning how and where to meet people is difficult. The best solution for finding friends is to be active socially and at work. Support can be gained through church groups and special groups for the widowed. Joining in political campaigns, community organizations, golf or tennis clubs are

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search, In the beginning of October I landed a job with a local company and was working for 3 days before I was let go. A few days later I was talking with someone who works for the same company that I had become friendly with and she told me that rumor had it I was let go because I was not truthful about something that happened in the past. I called the company to find out why I was let go and was told that the company found out that I had applied for a position at their company just 2 weeks before whereby I was offered a position in another department and failed to ever show up for the job. They told me that they figured out I re-applied for a position in another department and I was offered that job too. Three days into my job it appears as though the first person who interviewed me saw me in the cafeteria and remembered me. They are now saying I signed something on my application asking if I had ever applied with their company before, and I checked, No. They now claim that I have been released due to dishonesty. Is this grounds for termination? R.O. - Waukegan

A: Dear R.O. Check with your local Department of Employment Security. I will tell you that in as much as I can make out of your story, your actions were off base. To have called the company the first time and declined the position rather than to have not shown up at all, would have been professional. The way you handled it or didn't as the case may be, was irresponsible. To have re-applied 2 weeks later and have not been truthful of your first encounter there, sums it up! I'd try to learn from this experience and remember that honesty works!

Q: Dear...Search, A co-worker of mine had given her notice and left the company I work for. I had gone to my boss and told him that I felt I could handle both jobs with no problem. Here I am 2 months into both jobs, saving the company 1 salary, and all I've asked for is a slight increase and a new title. My bosses reaction was, "let's wait for another month." I have already proven my capabilities. Why does he want me to wait? D.G. - Zion

A: Dear D.G., Be patient, sounds like he's testing the waters to be sure you can in fact handle it. Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

Natasha's Stars

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your creative engines are going full fire as the week begins, and you charge this high voltage energy into your work. This is almost a guarantee of success in the business world. The exhilaration from this high carries you right into the weekend.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You slowly come out of your shell this week, but once you get started, you go wild. Your energy is high and on target at work and at play. The problem is you'll need most of the weekend to recuperate. Others don't give you a choice. They want you now.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Others wish you would you chat less and work more. You kind of get the message midweek when you finally become silent. Your mind is on other things and more important problems. Once they're solved, you roll into a carefree and wonderful weekend.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You really are a force to be dealt with this week, as you clear paperwork, get the job done, and just feel good about you. You opt for a homey, though certainly not boring, weekend. You won't want any distractions, TV or anything. Relish this one.

LEO (July 23-August 22) You plunge into the work week ready to conquer the world. And you do, at least in your own domain. As the weekend comes on, you move into a more relaxed frame of mind. Catch up on news, hang with friends, and be your more flirtatious self.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) You continue to mull over taking an important action, though by midweek you could care less. Others are drawn to you and lay out their plans for you simply and directly. You spend the weekend recovering from this change in image.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) You're into those mood swings again,

Libra. It's okay, because you start up and end up, just in time for the weekend. You leave your mark at work. (You just don't mince your words, do you?) Take your diary with you this weekend. We'll all want to read your memoirs.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) You're in the limelight this week. Refuse to be cornered by a boss. He may just be jealous of that insight and your ability to hypnotize. No matter what you do, you get what you want, so make sure your wish list is big, very big. Snooze some this weekend.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) Check out what is going on behind the scenes, before you leap into action this week. Then manifest your power. Your determination makes for a success story. Whether your conquest is money, love or work, you celebrate all weekend long.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) You're a sign that seems to always draw money, though your tactics could be changing. Expect to be in your mind most of the week, daydreaming away. (Some of those dreams could be a little spicy.) You really don't start to enjoy your weekend until later, but it's worth it.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) Others seek you out all week long, and the more social you are, the happier you become. Work does become a minor issue, but the intensity of the moment more than compensates for it. Might as well call it an early week, as your mind is not on work.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) You are incredibly efficient this week, and it's a good thing too, because there are a lot of good reasons for you to be distracted. Seriously consider a partnership offer — financial or emotional — made late in the week or during the weekend. Please take your time deciding, Pisces.

Junior Choi serves notice to Warren, tourney foes

Stevenson volleyball coach Bob Schenk gives his team instruction during time-out against Warren. Stevenson secured a tie for first in North Suburban Conference with win in two games. Stevenson is favorite in first Lake County volleyball invitational Oct. 23 and 24 at Libertyville and Mundelein.—Photo by Steve Peterson.

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

As the Stevenson girls volleyball team marched through area competition last year on their route to the Elite Eight at Normal, Christine Choi did not make the headlines.

Choi, a junior, was learning and watching in 1991. On Wednesday, Choi and the rest of the Stevenson Patriots brought their well-sharpened needle to the party, bursting Warren's upset bid with a 15-4, 15-2 win. The win for the state-ranked Patriots secures them of a at least a tie for the North Suburban Conference title before a Tuesday clash with Fenton.

Choi was a little-used sophomore transfer from Morton Grove last year, watching as the Patriots advanced to the Elite Eight for the second straight year. Choi made her presence felt early and often with 10 first-gane points and six second-game points. She had six aces.

"Christine really did a nice job serving. Ann (Hamilton) and Christine both served tough. They're big kids, good athletes, I did not want them (Warren) to give them to be able to set up their attack. That is why serving is so important. She (Choi) has a hard floater serve with a lot of top-spin," Stevenson Coach Bob Schenk said.

"We do a lot of work on serving in practice," Choi said.

Choi knows her game needs some work before being considered the elite. "I'd like to work on my passing, Schenk said Choi could have seen more playing time, but the Patriots have been dominated by talented seniors.

"This year she has come along and I am very pleased with what she has done for us. She has shown leadership; aggressiveness and a lot of spirit. She is Miss Steady. It's nice to take a kid like that and put her in a position where she can play at this level," Schenk said of Tiffany DeBolt.

"I just wanted to help the team and keep their spirits up," Choi said.

Intimidation, aggressive serving and some mean kills paved the way for the Pats. DeBolt and Danielle Mall had six kills each. "We have a lot of things that can hit well. Not just Danielle and Tiffany. Choi did a nice job, too," Schenk said.

"Stevenson did not look that strong. However, we did not play well enough to push them to see what they have. They may be really as good as their record shows," Warren Coach Felicia Mascatelli said.

Warren (11-15 overall) made Stevenson think in game two, trailing 3-2 before Choi started the Pats on a streak which would put the match away. Kelly Smetana, a senior, had the points.

Warren's woes continued in the North Suburban Conference as the Blue Devils fell to 2-6 with a 15-6, 15-13 loss to Antioch.

Panthers believe in chances for post-season playoff bid

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

When it comes to football coaches and emotions, there is the extreme of a Bud Grant or Tom Landry. Or the opposite side, Mike Ditka.

Put Round Lake Dunn squarely in with the Ditka method. Emotion ruled this Homecoming afternoon as the Panthers upset Wauconda 12-6 in overtime. Afterward, it was time for tears of joy as the marching band played enthusiastically.

"I can't say enough about our school, can't say enough about everyone. You ALWAYS have to believe you can win. Our kids believe, they never quit and they play hard. They're great kids. I've never been happier for a group of kids," Dunn said.

The season did not start out well for Clint Rodriguez and his Round Lake teammates. The toughest schedule in the county had the Panthers face McHenry, Glenbard South and Driscoll. Now the Panthers are 3-4, but 2-1 in the Northwest Suburban Conference. Marian Central and quarterback Dirk Stanger loom Oct. 23 in Woodstock, but Saturday afternoon the Eye of the Hurricanes was a far-away forecast.

"I'm really happy for No. 11 (Rodriguez) because he is a team player. He is such a great defensive player and to come in and play like he did, it's great for our community," Dunn said.

Rodriguez, with his father watching along the sidelines in the Dad's Day tradition, tied the game at 6-6 in the 73-yard gallop down the sidelines. That came just three plays after Wauconda's Bryon Johnson found Brian Kuzniar open in the secondary for a 63-yard strike.

"It is from the speed option. He (Coach Dunn) puts me in there because I can run faster than the fullbacks. He thinks I can get around the corner. It just worked out," Rodriguez said.

Then in the overtime, Rodriguez, who came in at quarterback, had a combination of luck and determination go his way as he scampered in from nine yards out.

"I saw the end zone and No. 23 (Randy Brill) he stopped me pretty good but I just kept going. I try to stay on my feet and keep going. We knew it was a must-win situation if we wanted to stay alive for the conference championship," Rodriguez said.

For emotionally high as the overtime win was for Round Lake, it was the opposite for the Bulldogs. Wauconda had a last-chance when Johnson threw the ball on fourth down in the overtime, but the ball fell shy of the receiver.

The Bulldogs seek to regroup when they travel to winless Grayslake Oct. 23.

"We had the opportunities but did not take advantage of them," Coach Bob Kasper said. "They controlled the line of scrimmage."

Bulldogs had three fumble recoveries and interception but only had a missed field goal to show in a scoreless first half.

Round Lake looked like it was going to make a drive when Bob Swanson completed a pass for 55 yards to Henry Gibson to the Wauconda 15. The third-quarter drive stalled on the Wauconda 17 as Nate Bowers came up with a key tackle.

Round Lake's Luke Tesch was injured on a punt try and Wauconda got to keep the ball on a roughing-the-passer call. Johnson found Kuzniar open on the next play.

Rodriguez completed a pass to Swanson to keep a final minute drive going, but time ran out.

But that left plenty of time for an emotional celebration which carried over to the Homecoming dance which carried over to the playoffs. Only time will tell on the latter, but this Round Lake Homecoming will not be soon forgotten by either side.

Carmel defense must dominate in order to beat Notre Dame

by HEATHER McDONALD
Lakeland Newspapers

Since defense is their second focus, the Carmel Corsairs might have to "step it up a notch" this weekend when they travel to Niles Friday, Oct. 23, for their 8 p.m. game against Notre Dame.

With both teams at 5-2, Head Coach Michael Fitzgibbons said the game is an important one, and will be one of the toughest.

"Both of us need this win to get into the playoffs," Fitzgibbons said. "It's going to be tough."

"We need to play good, hard-nose defense like we have been and we'll be OK." Hard-nose defense like last week, when Carmel pulled out a 20-6 win over Holy Cross, and defensive end Art Loud had two sacks.

As last week was homecoming, it was appropriate that the team both played the game, and won, for former student and football player Bob Siudak, a senior who lives in Florida, but started his high school career at Carmel.

A classmate and friend who suffers from cancer.

Siudak came "home" to participate in the festivities and encourage his team to be tough, play their hearts out, and win.

CLC earns national rating for soccer, tourney looms

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers
College of Lake County
men's soccer coach Dave

Beck recalls 1986 well. A youth soccer coach in the Woodstock area, Beck jumped into the world of junior college soccer. "I got my feet wet the first couple of years. I had coached youth soccer, but I had to get to know the more physical play," Beck said.

The Lancers now have reached the top 20 nationally in rankings distributed by the NJCAA.

"I was excited but not that surprised. We had been ranked 30th and we were creeping up," Beck said.

"We have some sophomores who are great leaders and the freshmen follow their examples," Beck said.

The Lancers were awaiting word on whom they would face in the first rounds of the NJCAA tourney at CLC Oct. 24. Games were expected at 1 p.m. and around 3:30 p.m.

Joe Carver leads the 13-1 Lancers into post-season play. Carver scored three goals as CLC notched a 4-1 win over Elgin, clinching the conference title. The hat trick boosted the team-leader's total to 25 goals. Frosh Edward Frisch had the other goal.

"He was an all-American last year and always gets double-covered. But Joe is Joe and he finds a way to score," Beck said.

When opponents are not facing Joe at their end, they must get through another player named Joe to score. That is sophomore sweeper Joe Braido. CLC has allowed only 11 goals this year.

"Braido is a co-captain along with Carver. The 11 goals is the fewest we have given up since I've been here," Beck said.

Sophomore Jamie Dozier and frosh Chris Capre split the goalkeeping duties with the sophomore starting each match. "He is one of the hardest working guys I have ever had. He is a team player all the way through," Beck said of Dozier.

Alan Noon, a midfielder, is the other sophomore.

Beck is assisted by two former players, Tom Holevas and manager Lizandro Tremolado. "I rely a lot on my former players for recruiting," Beck said.

Other team members: Dave Buisson, Omar Pacheco, Mike Guglielmo, Bruce Lantz, Dan Henrichs, Mike Tulley, Mike Kwiatkowski, Mike Kuhn, Eric Schachelmayer, Ian Chapman, John Dunkel and Charlie Mulinix.

CLC linksters finish sixth

College of Lake County's golf team earned a sixth place finish in the Region IV meet at Park Hills Golf Course.

The Lancers had a two-day total of 690, 352 and 338. Highland won the title with a 659 and Blackhawk took second with a 662. College of DuPage won the Division III title with a solid 656 total.

CLC scores: Skip Pumala, 83 and 87, 170; Clint Ruth, 90 and 84, 174; Randy Kolaczewski, 85 and 93, 178; Jay Hawes, 103 and 78, 181 and Keith Zupc, 94 and 89, 183.

In volleyball, the Lancers lost to McHenry in three games and Kanakee in two.

The Scots downed CLC 15-12, 15-7 and 15-11. Kankakee was victorious over the Lancers 15-1, 15-2.

Depth key to Wauconda winning sectional crown

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Wauconda's girls tennis team did not let the chilly weather or sparse crowd stop them from picking up right where they left off the week before.

The Bulldogs had won the Northwest Suburban Conference championship and had hoped that momentum would carry them through to the Round Lake Sectional. It did, as the deep team took home the big first-place trophy in the closest of margins. Wauconda had 9.5 points, host Round Lake, defending champ Warren both had nine and Zion-Benton had eight points. Waukegan was next with four and Grayslake, which finished second in the Northwest Suburban Conference meet, had three. Antioch, Grant and Johnsburg had two points each.

"A lot of our kids took summer programs and worked really hard," Wauconda Coach Jackie Jabcon said. "We had a real deep team. At conference, we took second place at every single spot. At sectionals, three of our players advanced to the second day and that really helps."

Wauconda's top doubles team of Becky Senig and Jessica Jabcon, the coach's daughter, advanced to the state meet at Arlington Heights along with singles player Jennifer Freund.

Warren sophomore Erika Offerdahl won the singles competition with a 6-2, 6-3 win over teammate Zita Holeczy. The two were the top two seeds.

Grayslake's newly formed doubles team of Becky Ziolek and Heather Philipp, both juniors, advanced with a third-place finish.

Making a return trip to Arlington Heights will be Round Lake seniors Joy King and Kim Rainer. They downed Wauconda's Stenig and Jabcon 6-1, 6-4.

"We have more kids playing long times and if you want a good team, that is what you will have to do," Coach Jabcon said. "The team has improved so much as a whole."

Winning the sectional was not necessarily on the minds of the Bulldogs when then two days of chilly tennis started at Shag Park. "I don't think we thought about winning the sectional. We thought about trying to advance our players to get downstate," Jabcon said.

Round Lake Coach Pat Costello pointed to key wins in singles play by senior Kathy Stockwell and Erin Foley, earning the team four points as important factors in addition to the King-Rainer win.

"They are light years ahead of where they were last year," Costello said of King-Rainer, 11-1.

Rainer agrees. "I think we are much better than we were last year. We played better as a team this year. Now we know what to expect of each other. Joy is very aggressive. She is a great net player. I play well in the back because I played singles a lot this season. Last year I could not play net at all, this year it is a little better," Rainer said.

Rainer was spending the majority of her weekend cheered on by teammates and a few friends. Her doubles team was advancing to state while the football team, a few blocks away, was winning an overtime Homecoming contest against Wauconda. She did not mind missing the attention she would have received as Homecoming Queen.

"I was not on my mind at all. Just tennis and college. I'd like to play when I go to college," Rainer said.

"It was a good sectional because it built their character a lot," Costello said. The Round Lake duo had to battle back from losing a set to Zion-Benton in the semis.

Johnsburg's highlight came at singles, when sophomore Keri Klontz downed Grayslake junior Mandy Leubke. She then lost to Amy Scharlau of Wauconda.

Stevenson defense respects talents of Fenton's runners

Stevenson High School football Coach Bill Mitz was watching the offense of the next opponent during a free hour Tuesday.

He was glad Jason Klapper was not on the flick as a featured running back, but he has just as much respect for the Fenton running tandem of Peter Martino and Jason Ricke. Martino had two touchdowns against the winless Sequoits.

"They were running all over the field against Antioch," Mitz said. Fenton outrushed Antioch 275-112.

Stevenson's defense may still be smarting after Jason Klapper of Lake Forest burned them six times for touchdowns in a 41-14 romp. The loss spoiled Stevenson's Homecoming, dropping the Pats to 5-1 in the North Suburban Conference, 5-2 overall. Fenton comes in at 2-4, 2-5 but the Bison have made great strides since an 0-9 1991 campaign. Game time for the Oct. 23 contest at Stevenson is 7:30 p.m.

The Patriots actually struck first in the battle for first place in Lincolnshire as Jason Cato scored on a two-yard run. Klapper scored his first TD from 11 yards out but Gus Steger tallied from the three for the home team.

Klapper sent the Scouts on a 34-0 scoring binge over three quarters with a 20-yard second quarter TD. The Pats still felt they were in contention, down 21-14 at halftime.

"Their quarterback runs it (the wishbone) well, but we had some missed tackles. We took it down their throat the first two drives of the game but after they got up 28-14, we had to get out of our game plan and throw the ball more," Mitz said.

And that led to interceptions, which leads to the Patriots having to regroup. Stevenson is still well within range of making the playoffs for the second time in three years. After Fenton, the Pats close the season at Warren.

The Patriots did accomplish what few teams have been able to do — run the ball against the Scouts. Faraji Leary led the way with 72 yards as the Pats racked up 210 yards on the ground.

Bears defense is key to win against Crystal Lake

by H. McDONALD
Lakeland Newspapers

Lake Zurich's defense, which was key in their 21-7 homecoming victory last week against Jacobs, will be the key to winning this weekend when they travel to Crystal Lake Central Friday for a 7 p.m. kick-off.

"We'll try to control their (Crystal Lake's) rushing game and force them into passing," said Head Coach Wayne Kuklinski. "Hopefully we'll make them do things they're unfamiliar with."

That's exactly what the Bears did against Jacobs last week, causing a fumble (which the Bears recovered) and three interceptions by defensive backs James Cuellar, Mike Pepin and Jeremy Siegel.

Other defensive standouts were defensive end Brian Gabriel and line backer Steve Lebron.

Offensively, the Bears scored when quarterback Jerry Blum (7 of 12, 99 yards) connected with Jack Henderson for a 37-yard touchdown pass, and John Christensen for a 17-yard score, both in the first half.

Running back Joe Carbis (22 carries, 100 yards) plunged in from 1-yard out in the fourth quarter for the deciding score.

Jacobs scored with :15 left on the clock in the first half when quarterback Jason Lipinsky (11 of 23, 154 yards) connected on a 9-yard pass to Dan Rezendes.

Thriller gives family fond memories of RL home field

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

John Tesch stood along the edge of the Round Lake Senior High School track, wearing No. 1 in school colors.

His son, Luke, was giving it his all as a fullback in a key Northwest Suburban Conference football battle. Then came a certain punt return. Tesch was injured on the play, helped off the field by teammates.

Although lost in the emotion of a 12-6 overtime win over Wauconda which kept the Panther playoff hopes alive at 3-4, 2-1 in the NWSC, an era ended at Purol Field.

Nine years ago was when Jim Roberts was head coach.

Maybe one of John Tesch's first games was when Dan Duax broke up a Wauconda pass in the final seconds to preserve a 7-0 Round Lake win in Wauconda's 1983 Homecoming game... or Round Lake winning 16-14 in overtime over Marengo in 1984, Coach the Teschs. John also is assistant coach for the Vikings, a semi-pro team which has found itself on the wrong end of 34-0 and 68-0 scores.

As for the current Panthers, John Tesch says the team has a tough non-conference schedule with McHenry, Driscoll and Glenbard South.

By then, the game was getting interesting as Wauconda picked up another Round Lake fumble.

Grandmotherly support: Soffell Hood of North Canton, Ohio paid a visit to the Hood family of Warren just in time to see Jeff's team beat Libertyville 14-0. Then it was time to see Brian's lightweight packers double up on Round Lake, 40-20, for the lightweight title.

This week's top five: Warren leads the pack at 6-1, 5-1 in the North Suburban Conference. The bad news is Lake Forest is next...Stevenson took one on the chin in a 41-14 at the hands of the Scouts but a 5-2 overall record, 5-1 in the NSC earn it the second spot...Wauconda slipped to a tie for second with Round Lake at 2-1 with a loss to the Panthers, but is third...Fourth and fifth are Carmel and Lake Zurich, both 5-2 overall.

Overtime

Mike Dunn's first season...or then junior QB Walter Tesch leading the Panthers past Marian Central and into the playoffs in 1985...or a last-minute field goal by Shayne Blatley to beat Marengo in 1990. That set up a showdown with Grayslake, which the Rams won 20-15. Both teams made the playoffs, which the Panthers lost in a heartbreaker 29-22 to Rolling Meadows.

John is the father of three players who have made big-time impacts in the Round Lake system: Walter, Adam and now Luke.

"Walter is more of a pure passer; Adam more of a defensive player and Luke was the hardest worker," John Tesch recalled as the game got a little more intense.

The year has not been a smooth one for game for me," said Fitzgibbons. "It was a very, very emotional time."

The Corsairs channeled that emotion into their defense and kept the Crusaders scoreless at half.

Carmel executed a two-minute drill as quarterback Tony Longmire passed to Jermaine Williams for 20 yards, then to Dave Zorzy for 18 more. Longmire handed off to Jamil Swift who pitched the ball back to him for a 7 yard gain, and a 23-yard pass to Williams put Carmel on their own 10-yard line.

Longmire was forced to run the ball in for Carmel's first score with :36 left in the half after his intended receiver, Williams, fell.

Holy Cross added six to the board after half when Michael Coughlin rushed and stripped Longmire of the ball, then ran 37 yards for the touchdown.

Carmel kept Holy Cross scoreless the rest of the game while they added two more touchdowns for the 20-6 win.

TCI to present election shows

TCI of Illinois/STAR 4 will present two special programs looking at the 1992 election from the standpoint of voters — young and old.

"The Voter Turnout" is a one-hour special on the participation, or lack thereof, of voters in the electoral process. The program will look at attitudes of the voting public and analyze the changing habits of voters. The show will include interviews with key political figures from Illinois, experts in the political arena and members of the public.

"The Voter Turnout" will be presented Oct. 22 at 6:30 p.m. and Oct. 29 at 7 p.m. on Channel 34.

"State of the Youth: Election '92" will look at the upcoming election from the perspective of young people. The program will bring together key members of the Bush and Clinton campaigns to discuss issues and answer questions from the audience.

Ed Tyll from WLUP-AM will host the program, the second installment of the series, Oct. 29 at 6 p.m. and Nov. 2 at 4 p.m.

Both programs are produced by TCI and will be available in the Johnsburg, Island Lake and Round Lake areas.

Auto deaths drop in Sept.

Illinois traffic fatalities for September totaled 89 as a result of 81 accidents, a decrease of 19.1 percent from the 110 deaths in September 1991. The total of 977 deaths for the year is also decreased by 10 percent compared with last year.

In Lake County, there were four vehicle related deaths in September, bringing the yearly total to 37. Last year at this time there were 44 deaths.

CLC is awarded for 'study' project

The College of Lake County received an award from the Illinois Community College Board for developing outstanding teaching and learning programs today.

CLC received the award for its project which involves faculty in assessing the process of student learning. The faculty-based research projects began after a study was conducted on Chemistry I and Chemistry II students. The study confirmed the importance of a strong mathematics foundation for success in Chemistry II.

The resulting changes which were implemented lead to better student understanding and helped to shape a college-wide attitude toward assessment of student learning outcomes.

Bobby Covak holds a broken pumpkin which vandals broke sometime Monday night.

Vandals break pumpkins

Halloween is a time of spooky goblins, moaning ghosts, candy and, unfortunately, vandalism. Many residents now refrain from extensive lawn and home decorations to avoid becoming victims of senseless vandalism crimes.

When many families in the West Trails Subdivision in Grayslake awoke to find snow on their front lawns, Oct. 20, they also found their Halloween lawn ornaments and decorations smashed, broken and stolen. The pumpkin-paved roadway on Mitchell Drive was examined by the Grayslake Police Department, but little more than consolation was given.

One family had placed between 30 to 35 pumpkins on their lawn and front porch, in addition to the traditional Halloween witches, ghosts and monsters. When they awoke, one pumpkin remained intact and all other decorations were gone.

"This is not nice," said Bobby Covak, 5. "It's not nice to take or break other people's things. I would never do that." Bobby and his younger sister had spent a considerable amount of time decorating pumpkins this year and were proud of their "spooky" house, however, vandals destroyed the pride and instilled sadness.

Westfield homes net three gold keys

Westfield Homes of Illinois has been honored with three Key Awards for excellence in housing design at a recent banquet at the Marriott Lincolnshire Resort.

The awards are presented annually by the Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago, and focus on achievements in land planning, landscape architecture, architectural design and interior design.

Westfield Homes received a gold key for the architectural design of the Oakwood, a single-family home in the 1,500 to 1,800 square foot category. The Oakwood is featured at Stonebrook, the new Westfield Homes golf community in Gurnee.

The Lake County building company also received a silver key for the architectural design of Fairfax, a townhome at Stonebrook, and a bronze key for the architectural design of the New Haven at Westridge in Island Lake.

Zanies comedy club plans to open doors October 28

by CLAUDIA M. LENART
Lakeland Newspapers

Professional comedy just minutes from home will be available to area residents starting next week when the Vernon Hills Zanies comedy club is expected to open.

Zanies at the Hawthorn Commons shopping center plans to open its doors Wednesday, Oct. 28, according to Bert Haas, general manager of all four Chicago metropolitan Zanies clubs. The opening date is pending final inspections by the village and fire department.

Haas expects a welcome reception from county residents. Already he's had lots of inquiries about the club. "I was at the club last Friday, just me. I was cleaning and couldn't get anything done because the phone was ringing off the hook," said Haas. "People were wanting to make reservations."

"I anticipate that once we open we'll do quite well," said Haas.

Haas said Zanies is well-known throughout the metropolitan area with clubs in Mt. Prospect, Chicago and St. Charles.

"Many Lake County residents are familiar with the Zanies name but because of the drive might be going there once a year. We hope that now they'll patronize us more than once a year. We have a fantastic repeat business in Chicago," said Haas.

The Vernon Hills Zanies will seat 300 to 325 people making it the largest of the four Zanies. The club will be open Tuesdays through Sundays.

Comedians scheduled for the anticipated opening, Oct. 28, are Barry Martin, who has been on Showtime's Comedy Club Network. "He's like a modern day Andy Griffith," said Haas. Also scheduled for opening night is Sally Edwards, who has also been on the Comedy Club Network.

In the first week of November, T.P. Mulroney will appear at Zanies. He's originally from Chicago and is now head writer for Showtime's Sunday Comics.

At Vernon Hills' Zanies grand opening, Nov. 14, David Brenner will headline. Also coming in November is Brian Regan.

"We're really excited to get the best to help us start out," said Haas.

Athlete of the week

Congratulations to Doug Gooch for being selected Antioch Community High School Athlete of the week for the week ending Sept. 5. Gooch tied a school record against Maine East by scoring four goals in one soccer game. Gooch scored seven of the school 12 goals during that week's games. The First Chicago Bank of Antioch will make a donation to the high school scholarship fund in the name of Gooch. Pictured with Gooch is First Chicago President Carl McWherter, who presented the award.

44,000 more voters primed for election

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

If all of the 271,187 registered voters in Lake County go to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 3, it will be a record.

But that probably won't happen, concedes County Clerk Linda Hess.

She happily announced 44,000 voters have added in Lake County as the result of a summer and fall campaign. This is an all-time record. That also makes it a record 271,187 people registered to vote.

The number of people registered to vote is slightly more than 50 percent of the county's estimated population of 520,000.

In addition to the voter registration campaign started in May by her office, Hess gave several other reasons for the huge number of new voters.

"First, there is more than average interest in this campaign," she said. "Part of it is due to the candidates themselves. There is also redistricting, which gives people a chance to vote for new candidates."

Then, there is the growing population.

"Like those who already live here, the new residents want to vote, too," Hess said.

Until now the 240,000 voters registered to vote in the primary last March was a registration record.

Following that spirited election, Hess coordinated a campaign she thought would sign up 25,000 new voters. "That was a goal," she said. "I thought we could realistically add 35,000 more voters. But 44,000 more is beyond my wildest imagination."

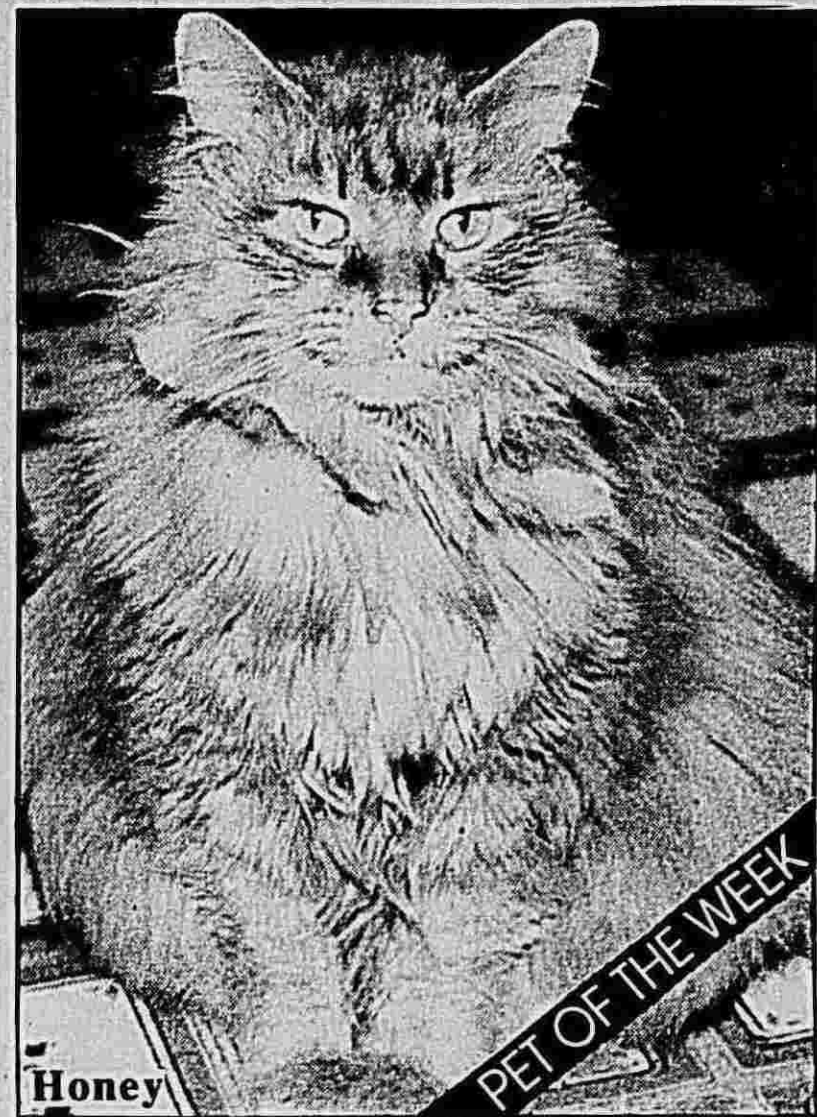

Assisting in the summer and fall registration drive were both political parties, the League of Women Voters, NAACP, American Assn. of Retired Persons, civic organizations, labor groups, chambers of commerce, businesses and community groups. Staff from the County Clerks' office were dispatched throughout the county on Grocery Store Day in October when the drive concentrated on shoppers.

The new record comes even after purging registration rolls following the March primary. An initial post card to determine residency was followed by two more to those not responding.

PET OF THE WEEK

Winter Squash Gratin

- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1/2 small onion, finely chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme or 4 to 6 thyme branches
- 1 bay leaf
- Salt
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper or 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1 pound tomatoes, fresh or canned, peeled, seeded, and finely chopped
- Sugar, if necessary
- Pepper
- 1 winter squash, weighing 2 1/2 to 3 pounds
- Oil for frying
- 4 ounces Fontina or Gruyère cheese, sliced
- Fresh herbs; parsley or marjoram, thyme, finely chopped

Heat the olive oil and add the onion, garlic, thyme, bay leaf, and a little salt. Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until the onion is soft; then add the wine and let it reduce by half. Add the cayenne or paprika and the tomatoes. Cook slowly for 25 minutes, stirring occasionally, until the sauce is thick. Taste, add a pinch of sugar if the tomatoes are tart, and season with salt and freshly ground black pepper.

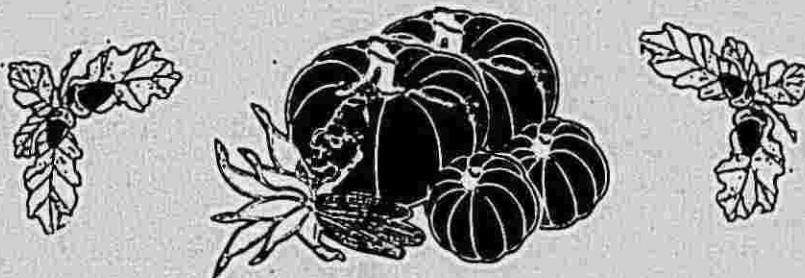

While the tomatoes are cooking, prepare the squash. Cut it open, scoop out the seeds and strings, and then, with the flat cut surface resting on the counter, shave off the skin. (Butternut squash can be easily peeled with a vegetable peeler before it is cut in half.) Another method is to cut the squash into pieces and then remove the skin from each piece. This takes more time, but you may find it easier.

Slice the peeled squash into large pieces about 3 inches long and 1/4 inch thick. Heat enough oil to generously coat the bottom of a large skillet, and fry the squash on both sides, so that it is browned and just tender. Remove it to some towel to drain; then season with salt and freshly ground pepper.

Preheat the oven to 375 degrees. To form the gratin, put a few spoonfuls of the tomato sauce on the bottom of individual gratin dishes, or use it all to cover the bottom of one large dish. Lay the squash on top in overlapping layers with slices of the cheese interspersed between the layers. Bake until the cheese is melted and the gratin is hot, about 15 minutes, and serve with the fresh herbs scattered over the surface.

Avoid a heater that won't work

There is perhaps no greater inconvenience of winter driving than a heater that won't work.

Most passenger compartment heaters use the coolant to warm the incoming fresh air. In addition to providing driver and passenger comfort, the warm air directed to the inside of the windshield generally prevents fogging or icing which obscures vision.

The personal distress of cold fingers and toes can be avoided, say experts, by inspecting the heat-producing cooling system components in your car.

Troubleshooting should begin with the coolant level in the radiator (it should be visible just below the filler neck) and mixture (50 percent each of water and antifreeze is recommended). A low level will reduce or cancel the flow of coolant to the heater, thereby reducing or preventing any heat output.

The radiator pressure cap helps to raise and control the temperature of the coolant in the system. It should be replaced if the seal or gasket is damaged, or if the spring is broken.

The thermostat acts as a heat sensitive valve which regulates the flow of coolant to the radiator. When the thermostat fails or malfunctions, the engine will either overheat or it will take longer to get any heat because the engine will take longer to reach proper operating temperature. It is a good practice to replace a thermostat that is in doubt.

Flexible hoses convey the liquid coolant between the radiator and the engine. They should be inspected for softness, cracks and cuts. In normal service, they are affected by air, heat, chemicals, oil and constant vibration. These conditions could either harden or crack hoses, which destroys flexibility and causes leakage; or soften and swell the hoses, which produces lining failure and hose rupture.

Two other important hoses run parallel from the engine to the heater, normally found under the dashboard. These, too, should be cracked for swelling and cracks, and abrasion to the hose cover where the hoses come in contact with the engine block.

The water pump/fan drive might be called the heart of the cooling system. Coolant circulates throughout the engine by means of the water pump, which is driven by a V-belt.

Loose or worn belts could mean failure of the drive. Check the condition of the drive belts by turning them over. Replace any that are cracked, frayed, brittle, wet with oil, or highly polished on the sides that contact the pulleys. Regardless of the visual condition, belts which are more than four years old should be replaced.

These troubleshooting procedures could solve the problem of a malfunctioning heating system. Other trouble areas such as a clogged or leaking heater core, faulty electrical connections and fuses, a broken blower motor or a non-operating heater control valve, should be checked by an experienced mechanic.

At the very least, this exercise will prepare your cooling system for the hard winter months ahead.

Steps to clearer driving vision

Ninety percent of driving decisions are based on the visibility at the time. The three main factors affecting visibility are the current conditions of the windows, mirrors and lights.

All windows in a car should be kept meticulously clean, especially the windshield and back window. Windows should be washed both inside and out on a regular basis. Windshield wipers should be properly maintained for maximum cleaning efficiency.

In general, windshield wipers work best during the first six months of use. If a wiper leaves streaks, first try cleaning the rubber blades. Take a soft cloth soaked with denatured alcohol and gently run the cloth up and down the rubber blades. Allow blades to dry before using. This should remove any contaminants on the blade. If streaking still occurs, blades should be replaced.

Squeaking blades could mean poor arm tension. Have them checked. If wipers are not working at all, check the fuse first. If the fuse is functioning, then check for faulty wiring or a malfunctioning wiper switch.

Don't forget to keep windshield washer solution filled. Keep extra solution in the car for quick fill-ups as needed.

You'll also want to check your defrost system and front and back windows for proper airflow and heat.

Outside and inside mirrors are all visibility essentials. Make sure they are cleaned, free of cracks and sturdily mounted.

The proper use and maintenance of headlights is the last important aspect to high driving visibility. Improper cleaning of headlights greatly affects their brightness. Snow, mud and dirty rain residue can dim headlight capability. Clean them regularly.

things about tennis, this and that. Give the boys some credit.

I'm calling from Grayslake. For about six months out of the year, garage sale signs pop up all over the place. My biggest problem with this is that when the garage sales are over, the people are too lazy to take the signs down. A lot of people think the signs are unsightly. Please, remove your signs when the sale is over — not only for the people who hate them, but also to save gas and time for your future customers.

I'm from Wauconda and I love Lipservice. I would like to tell all of the candidates for office that they had better take down all of their signs when the election is over or I am going to personally take them down, find their homes and put all those damn signs on their lawns. How many times do we see the signs left up for months after the election. C'mon, people, take those signs down when you win or lose. We remember that kind of stuff.

I am getting sick and tired of hearing election news that they are blaming administration for unemployment. The truth is that the unions have wrecked our country. They are always demanding more money, more this, more vacations, more that. By doing this, they are causing the companies they work for to have to raise prices. They have to pay such high wages, that they have to go
